This really was a pleasure to read. Your focus on classic texts and your genuine appreciation of those texts really comes through in your style of writing, a style which is fluid, accessible & sophisticated. It is clear that you've a very good understanding of the selected works & you provide an engaged and informed discussion of key ideas. In places you would have done well to have incorporated secondary reading to develop more by way of a critique. But, overall, this is an excellent piece of work.
