COMPETITORS

What they're missing

direct connection between artists and businesses businesses would find it hard to find local artists as the website is for users across the world.

PINTEREST

<https://www.pinterest.co.uk/>

What they're missing

the website has artists from all over the world posting their art so it would be hard for a business to find a local artist.

DEVIANTART

<https://www.deviantart.com/>

What they're missing

the app dose not give a direct link for businesses to get in touch with artists

Strategy

all the websites have users from all across the world which will make it hard for business to find local artists to do some work for them, our app will tell business and artists how far they are from each other. by showing how far businesses and artists are from each other it will allow artists to know how far they will have to travel to the businesses that they are creating a piece for.
