Welcome to the April edition of UWTSD's Law, Criminology and Policing Newsletter. March was an extremely busy month so we would like to give a glimpse of what we did; With a huge thank you to everyone who made this possible. With the exam period fast approaching, we also wanted to help you prepare for exams with some useful tips.

Keep in touch, stay connected, and let's celebrate our collective achievements together.

Recent Events

Careers Day

10/03/25

Civil Service

National Probation
Service

On 10th March we welcomed guest speaker inputs to promote careers within the Crown Prosecution Service, Probation and Thrive Women's Aid. The sessions were invaluable in highlighting the variety of career opportunities that a degree in Law/Criminology/Policing can lead to; promoting volunteer roles available alongside classroom studies. Student feedback from the day was overwhelmingly positive; with students saying:

---

"As someone who is unsure what I would like to do with my degree. It certainly opens my eyes to all sorts of job prospects."

"It was nice to see how much everyone loved their job and their own passion."

SA1 familiarisation day

31/3/25

On 31st March we visited our new home (from 25th September) on the SA1 Waterfront campus. We wanted to give students the opportunity to familiarise themselves with the campus and to show them what our new "home" has to offer. It's safe to say that we had some competitive students who were desperate to beat the clock in the immersive escape room.

"It was great to have the opportunity to visit the SA1 Campus as a couple of peers and I was initially anxious to start in September as we didn't know the campus very well. We visited the 3 buildings and got a thorough insight into what each building offers and what the new campus could give us as a student. The buildings are more modern and contemporary, giving us the best tools and materials to learn in the coming years. Personally, I feel that the SA1 offers much more than the old Business Campus with easier access for parking and more spaces for self-study and group study". – Nathan Lloyd (Level 4 Professional Policing)

Swansea Magistrates' and Crown Court visits

01/04/25

To conclude the final week of term, students from across the discipline were invited to visit Swansea Magistrates' and Crown Courts, offering the opportunity to bring classroom theory 'to life'.

Jade Brown (Level 5 Law student) said: "It was extremely interesting, and I really enjoyed the morning."
