Hello, This report I am writing is to outline my own key experiences I have had during this module and the module topics I have completed these past few months. These experiences I had are very significant because they have taught me new skills and new talents I never knew I had. In addition, I have been taught new disciplines such as time management and teamwork. Therefore, doing this course has taught me so much about the real world that I never knew existed and my passion for the business world has strengthened further than I have ever believed it could.

Continuing on, the specific experiences that stood out to me the most was when I had upcoming assessments and I found out that I could manage my time as instead of rushing around I had been able to space my revision time and my time with other things perfectly. Also, another one of my experiences that specifically stood out to me is the work set in the classroom and out of the classroom. This specifically stood out to me because it had given me a challenge and a new unique learning experience which had increased my passion and urge to learn more of the business world. In addition, the Academic Skills module I have been completing has brought me the skill of teamwork into my skillset also by the classroom discussions and every individual student helping each other throughout this course. Adding on, the two assessments (task 1 and 2) in class confirmed to me that I am able to take initiative and put my head down to complete and get the marks I want no matter what which also leads me to another skill I have learned which is leadership. Furthermore, the skill of leadership has led me to become a leader in the class and in the real world, which is when I am with friends, home and also in public where as to help strangers with their issues in public.

Personally, everything went well during this module but there are a few improvements needed to be made such as my attendance to in person class settings. This was a major improvement that needs to be made but I have learnt from it and trying to be more present because of it by organising myself more and building a schedule to work around my lesson time and my out of lesson life. Another thing that had gone poorly was my illness (ulcerative colitis) that had come in the way of my learning as it had stopped me from learning and putting my all into the module and I have learned no matter the circumstances I will work through it no matter what to succeed and achieve what I want in life through tough discipline which I have learned from this module. Nonetheless, I did not let that stop me fully which led me onto my strengths during this module which is the skills and determination I learnt from the module which in turn helped me through the module no matter the odds and make myself feel proud of what I have achieved during this great experience. Continuing on, another strength I have during this module is the skills I have been able to apply in the class and in real life which are leadership, teamwork, listening, constructive criticism and also the time management skills that I have all applied to my life in and out of my time doing this module. My growth during this module has been tremendous and my development during this module has added many tools to my skillset that I can use in my future and beyond.

In conclusion, every single key point I have mentioned has brought me closer to my goal of learning about the real world and applying my skillset I have learnt in this module to enhance the career passion for the career I have pursued and wanted to pursue since I was a little boy. I have learnt I have a good skillset and talents that I can use like leadership and time management and to take initiative in my day to day life. The impact of this module on my learning journey was tremendous and it brought me closer to my goals in life because of the discipline I have learnt because of this module and being forced to apply it not only in the course but in the real world.
