This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
1. Engagement with Literature Skills
N/A
2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
Excellent presentation of the Front end connecting to the database. Excellent display of what the buttons mean and the inclusion of the print function is excellent. However there is no evidence to show that user management was applied. For example only certain users can delete accounts. Also there was no reporting function available. for example all events due this month.	25	12
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
Overall the database design was excellent. However I wouldn't have used a Branch manager entity, I think it would have been better to use a staff entity of which a manager could be a staff type. When designing a database be sure to include a Data Dictionary split by entities. Your entities normalisation looks good however you could have included your process you followed from 1nf to 3nf to gain extra marks.	20	11
4. Practical Application Skills
A good submission showing good SQL skills. You could have inputted more data to show your solution working in a more practical way. Also while you displayed good front end screens to view the data, there were no report function to query the database. More complex queries would have generated more marks.	45	29
5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice
Document presentation was excellent. Very good structure throughout. Make sure you include your student id in each page header. When labelling screenshots make sure their description is clear and they are labelled figure 1 etc. Overall a good presented document.	10	6
