

Part time Social Inclusion Project Worker

- 2 days per week- 15 Hours
- Based at the Wandsworth Hub, Tooting
- Salary: £9,687.20 pro rata (£24,218.00 FTE)

Are you passionate about supporting people with mental health challenges to live the life they choose?

Mind in Brent, Wandsworth, and Westminster are looking for a Social Inclusion Project worker who will maintain and improve outcomes for service users at their Tooting Wellbeing Hub.

Your role will be to work with service users to support and identify their goals, as well as finding ways that they can achieve them. You'll provide regular support planning meetings and evidence the plans and progress you make on our VIEWS database.

You will be responsible for:

- Facilitating groups for individuals in the group outreach programme.
- Collecting and reporting on data.
- Measuring outcomes using the Mental Health Warwick Edinburgh Wellbeing Scale and other appropriate measuring tools.
- Developing good working relationships with external agencies and attending external meetings.

Please refer to the Job Description for a full description of the role.

You are:

- Compassionate, empathetic, and patient.
- Passionate about supporting clinically vulnerable populations, with an understanding of how to talk to them with sensitivity.
- Able to work collaboratively within a team.
- Someone with a wide range of life experience, effective communication skills, and able to demonstrate degree level or equivalent experience.
- Organised, with the ability to maintain high standards, keep accurate records, and maintain appropriate boundaries.
