Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
General Comments
A fair overview of skills learned to become a "better" student - However, your lacking a considerable amount of evidence to support your experiences - this was explained when the coursework was released. Be careful on what the coursework is asking for and be confidence on what is needed/required	100	49
1. Engagement with Literature Skills
Although you have carried out relevant research - you must embrace IEEE methodology and be able to cite your work - without this, you will lose relevant marks	20	12
2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
Remember, the skills audit (evidence required) - this is about the "computing" skills needed from this course, so that you may enter a computing career. You have some self evaluation - but lacking evidence. Writing the report is simple, supporting evidence would have given you an opportunity to showcase your skills	20	5
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
This links to the research and supporting evidence from that research - again establish the needs of the assessment or simply read it carefully and identify key elements	20	7
4. Practical Application Skills
Simple message - read the assessment brief carefully, establish its needs and support the written elements with suitable evidence - so ask yourself did you ?	30	19
5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice
Remember for HE level reports, TOC is critial, page numbers are essential and the ability to use IEEE to research/cite - please review resources on moodle and besides this was covered in lectures	20	6
