

Assessment 1

Community Engagement

NAME : SIMRANJEET KAUR
STUDENT ID : 2225768
PROGRAMME : BA BUSINESS MANAGEMENT
MODULE : COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
MODULE CODE : LCBB4002
COURSEWORK : ESSAY
LECTURER : Dr. MUSHFIGUR RAHMAN

Women's Aid Federation of England

women's aid

until women & children are safe

Table of content

1.1. Introduction.....	4
1.2. Main body.....	4
1.3. Objective.....	5
1.4. Address participant.....	5
1.5. Potential benefits.....	6

1.6. Evaluation of community.....	6
1.7. Approaches.....	7
1.8. Learning outcome.....	7
1.9. Post projects by women's aid.....	8
1.10. Internal and external analysis.....	8
1.11 Conclusion.....	9
1.12. References	10
1.13. Appendix 1.....	11
1.14. Appendix 2.....	12

1.0 INTRODUCTION-

Women's Aid Federation of England, formerly known as Women's Aid within England, is a non-profit organization in the United Kingdom. The organization's aim is to bring about an end of domestic abuse involving women and children. Our team of sister coalitions offer assistance to the counties of Scotland, Wales, as well as Northern Ireland. Domestic assault is a biased felony that stems from racial disparities between men and women. (CEDAW, 1992)

The following piece examines several facets of the feminine aid endeavor, including its purposes, techniques and useful insights for future generations.it may encompass an assortment of projects such as our team of statewide affiliation that delivers psychological assistance to survivors across the nation, is address.

Lobbies and campaign for improvements in the system and enhance responsiveness to the needs of sufferers. Providing direct assistance to those who survived using our all over the country assistance programs. Community purposefully sought out perspectives and experiences those are not represented in our group in order to appreciate the diversity of people's concern and implement an intersectional strategy.

1.2 MAIN BODY-

Women enduring domestic abuse find it difficult to leave their partners due to concerns about their present housing condition or future dwelling possibilities. (see appendix 1) Domestic violence creates a background of fear and limited freedom, frequently in locations where women and their children should feel safest, particularly their homes. Every survivor's experience is unique, although housing is frequently a significant aspect in escaping an abuser or abusers. 46% of respondents who are experiencing intimate partner violence reported that their attacker made them experience guilty for being terrified or concerned about Covid-19, and 30% reported that their offender blamed them for the monetary effect of Covid-19 on their own residence.

According to Women's Aid, asylum services in the United Kingdom assisted 10,592 women and 12,710 kids during 2019-20, while services sponsored 103,969 women and 124,762 children. Domestic assault victims' families who have no access to public finances because of their immigration status continue to be fully subject to the domestic abuse law. Domestic violence may have a serious impact on your health and well-being, as well as the general well-being of your youngsters.

1.3 OBJECTIVES-

- The charity's main activity is to encourage the protection of women and children who have experienced or are at risk of experiencing gender-based violence.
- To enhance the provision of services and local knowledge of resources for those who have experienced sexual assault.
- Sexual assault outreach efforts aim to remind society at large on the frequency of cruelty, inspire individuals to step up effort to bring about improvements in society, and inform survivors of their choices and available resources. For instance, this organization assists those who decide to isolate from their loved ones and close friends due to a fear of being harmed by strangers in the form of violence. To empower and allow women to make decisions about their own destiny.

1.4 ADDRESS PARTICIPANT-

- Female Aid seeks to collaborate with additional groups, including a cooperation with Welsh Women's Aid and Rights of Women on Legal Aid reform to broaden the legal support entryway for sexual assault survivors in the fiscal year 2014 Engaging with Girl guiding to conduct a collaborative Legislative event on what's important to Women and Girls in the 2015 General Assembly at the Speaker's House. The opening addresses were the BBC's and Rt Hon John Bercow MP, Chairman of the Chamber. Delivering professional assistance to the Eliminate Violence against Women Coalition (EVAW), of which Women's Aid is a member. Working together with the PSHE Association on their campaign to make education mandatory. The Entire Neighborhood members may participate with femininity's aid as well as assist fellow citizens in living as freely as they like. The National Learning Unit was a member of a committee that was formed by the Institute of Social Workers to investigate an alternate strategy to responding to perpetrators and children who have experienced domestic abuse. This effort entailed advising on fresh regulations for social workers.

1.5 POTENTIAL BENEFITS-

Women's Aid briefed and updated national, regional, and local media, collaborated with journalists around the country, and produced more than 50 news releases and blogs written by Women's Aid. The Guardian, The Independent, The Times, The Daily Telegraph, The Mirror, and the Sun have all highlighted the women's Aid, have dramatically boosted our publicity in international publications.

The Women's Aid Organization maintains to regularly update the Users' Area of the Homepage with details concerning campaigns and advocacy initiatives on a regular basis. Women's Aid participates in academic activities receives about opportunities for fundraising that may benefit our members; and has a new appearance. Members' Noticeboard with more pertinent data and input requests. The event has continuing to create the 'On Path' Objectives Strategy and file, which will allow volunteers to demonstrate to regulators the impact of their programs. Seven organizations have been taught in the use of paper and internet tools, and the automated information is being tested.

1.6 EVALUATION OF COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT-

- Stand Forward - demonstrate that we are all stood up to violence against women by sending us photographs and articles regarding what you are doing in your community or digital to help prevent marital abuse while helping abusers. To motivate more people to get involved with our company, together want to provide numerous instances showing how people can make a difference.
- Inspections and hikes-Arranging excursions and tours in the project area to get information directly from community people and achieve a deeper understanding of the regional setting.
- Participate initiatives -for greater sufferer support or contribute to help us achieve an effect. You can host an event or participate in an adventure.
- Eliminate stereotypes- about sexual assault and confront sexism - domestic abuse does not occur as a result of having encouraged them, and it is not your problem because you are being attacked by another person - discriminatory views towards both genders must be confronted in order to end domestic violence.

1.7 APPROACHES-

The Women's Aid Society's 50th anniversary will be in 2024, and the campaign is called Come Together to End Domestic Abuse. Every aspect of community and all phases of life are impacted by allegations of domestic violence. For it to put a stop to this kind of violence, it is essential for individuals to stand into a team, take action, and accomplish much they can to advocate in their neighborhoods and workplaces of employment.

The campaign will track attitudinal shift, give evidence for what needs to change, and gauge its impact over the next two years. Women's Assistance has launched a grassroots effort termed Football United against Domestic abuse in collaboration with nationwide sports governing bodies, the sports press, soccer organizations, the police, players, and supporters to make it abundantly clear as residential abuse is never acceptable. As a team, let intend to expose sexist behavior that can serve as justification for violence against women and girls.

1.8 LEARNING OUTCOME-

- Neighborhood participation is frequently emphasized in excellent endeavors, throughout the design stages until their deployment. Engagement from communities fosters an understanding of control, improves outcomes of projects, along with guarantees that efforts are in line with the needs and goals of the local population.
- Tutoring and recognition: It plays an essential role to raise the public's comprehension of the advantages of assisting and caring for others surrounding us. Informing the general public on the benefits of lifesaving measures fosters community backing, inclusion, and an appreciation of obligation.
- Psychological support emotional consultation is a type of care during which a person wants to communicate his difficulties and fear with the help and advice of a counsellor, in order to evaluate the root cause and identify answers for the distress.

1.9 POST PROJECTS-

No Woman Turned Away (NWTa) project and its current role within the national network, During January of this year, the Department of Justice for The allocation upward, The housing sector, and Communities has supported the No Woman Turned Away (NWTa) programme, which seeks to provide targeted support to women of residential abuse and confront structural disparities and hurdles to accessing a shelter place.

Women may have no access to public funding or other forms of assistance due to their unstable status as immigrants, and they may have big families or households with boys beyond the age of fourteen. Other barriers may exist, such as a lack of credit for placing a contact to a shelter, high anxiety levels that prevent people from making decisions, or another obstacle, since this is not an entire collection.

Responding to ever-shifting demands Post-project strategies should assess well the project's primary aims connect into developing community demands. The ability to quickly adjust to altering conditions is critical for maintaining significance and performance.

1.10 INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL ANALYSIS-

SWOT examination is a form of planning and managerial tool that serves to assist a single individual or organization in identifying the Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats associated with company competitiveness or planning a project.

A PESTLE investigation is a tool for gaining a broad view of a market's atmosphere. PESTLE, which is an abbreviation that refers to Political, Economic, Social, Technological, Legal, and Environmental considerations.

A).SWOT ANALYSIS-

The internal traits that offer the enterprise an unfair advantage are referred to as strengths. As an instance, robust participation from the community, regional government support, as well as access to trained specialists can all be project assets.

Negative aspects these are the inner components that can hamper the project's completion. Disadvantages could include a lack of money, in specific areas, or possibly consumer opposition.

Possibilities are external elements that the initiative can capitalize on may include obtaining grants or money and increasing public awareness.

Threats are external variables that could have a negative effect on the undertaking. Commercial crises, alterations in federal policy, and a lack of public knowledge about public right are all potential threats.

B).PESTLE ANALYSIS-

- POLITICAL Local authorities have a significant role in policy formulation and execution because most policies and regulations are executed by local governments, and enforcement agencies primarily report to local governments in their respective states on various laws.
- ECONOMIC State spending - As indicated in the political aspects, the country's government runs budget deficits.
- SOCIAL Attitudes about Authorities - varied civilizations around the world have varied views on authority.
- TECHNOLOGY- various platform like site visits, awareness programmer and Facebook or twitter sites are running for people. (see appendix 2)
- LEGAL-Integrity of the Justice and the State's Relative Influence - The autonomy of the judiciary frequently reflects the stability and reliability of the country's authorities.
- ENVIRONMENT-Women's aid is operating in a decent moment without causing harm anyone in the surrounding area, but rather offering everything the genuine public desires.

1.11 CONCLUSION-

To recapitulate, The analysis of swot in addition to specifications discussed in the preceding sections Woman's charity may accomplish greater outcomes using mastering both inner and outer signifies in order to accomplish their objectives. "The word enormous mobilizing of women commenced with an objective, which was accompanied by actions." "The vision was of a reformed world." (R. E. Do bash and R. Do bash , 1992) Facing cuts and reaction, grassroots domestic violence movements have altered the globe in terms of support, campaigns, services, regulations, and awareness to help community to reach at the better and safe place. Despite extremely difficult circumstances, both staff and volunteers in home care are still continuing to make individuals' necessities initially.

1.12 REFERENCES-

- Walby, S and Allen, J (2004) Home Office Research Study 276, Domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking: Findings from the British Crime Survey, Home Office Research, Development and Statistics.
- Walby S. Towers J. and Francis B. (2014), 'Mainstreaming Domestic and Gender-Based Violence into Sociology and the Criminology of Violence', the Sociological Review, 62: 187 – 214.
- Miles, C. and Smith, K. (2018) Nowhere to Turn: Findings from the second year of the No Woman Turned Away project. Published online: Women's Aid
- Office for National Statistics. (2020). Domestic abuse victim characteristics, England and Wales: year ending March 2020. Available online.
- Women's Aid. (2019) the Domestic Abuse Report 2019: The Economics of Abuse. Bristol: Women's Aid. Women's Aid: Bristol. Available online.
- Women's Aid. (2021a) Nowhere to Turn 2021. Women's Aid: Bristol. Available online.

1.13. APPENDIX 1- Acknowledging victims of domestic abuse

Domestic neglect can take place on multiple fronts, and the perpetrators and claimed or known offenders can act out and react in a variety of ways, making it impossible to construct a clear list of symptoms that abuse is occurring. The following is a list of indicators of prey mentality.

- Demonstrates suicidal thoughts and actions.
- Maintain consistent communication with partners, regularly reporting their activities and progress.
- Unexplained injuries may be accidental, with other reasons.
- Frequent absenteeism, concealment, and silence on partner issues.

1.14. APPENDIX 2-TWITTER PARTNER WITH WOMEN'S AID

Females Aid's technological assistance offerings comprise Women's Aid Instant Chat, which allows individuals to speak with a Women's Aid trained assistance staff member, an e-mail support, and an online Survivor's Handbook, which is packed with useful information. Viewers that research for a phrase connected to domestic violence on the site will be directed to the Women's Aid website, given information about different tools, and displayed an interface that states that 'You are not alone. Whenever you are a victim of domestic violence or are concerned about an additional person, the partners of Women's Aid can assist you.