

MARKING CRITERIA and STUDENT FEEDBACK

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
1. Engagement with Literature Skills
Generally, a good research activity for this assessment and demonstrates a clear focus on element that are to be used on this assessment	20	20
2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
From what has been provided in the terms of scripting for Windows/Linux - you have a good understanding of how to create a set of useful scripts. However, as per assessment brief, a set of scripts should have been included	20	15
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
Good overview of what functions a typical OS gives the end user and is supported by a set of reference points/screen images. The only issue here is not the content, is how you apply the referencing to the discussion and this needs to be worked on for next years assessments	10	7
4. Practical Application Skills
Although you have identified a number of CLI commands, the assessment brief does expect you to document CLI commands and not a list. With regards to the scripts, they show a good understanding of using a number of constructs within the script. However, and as mentioned, you should have written a second script for Windows/Linux (its in the assessment brief)	40	30
5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice
Report is well presented, easy to read/follow and there are a number of elements that are referenced, please focus on how to apply referencing within the body of the report.	10	8
