

7th June 2022
17:30 for 18:00 start
21:00 finish

Wales South West

BS 7671 Amendment 2 Update

FREE ENTRY - ONLINE BOOKING ESSENTIAL

Paul Skyrme IEng FIET - IET Volunteer
Richard Giddings IEng MIET - Senior Engineer
IET Technical Regulations
Paul Meenan CEng FIET - IET Volunteer

Please join us to discover the main changes to BS 7671 in Amendment 2.

The team will be covering the changes during the talk and then taking questions at the end of the presentation from the audience.

We will be giving away some things during the night, so join us to find out what.

Why come?

Electricians, get up to speed with the latest changes, how they will affect the way you work and your customers.

There will be suppliers there for you to find out about products and test equipment.

There are many changes in BS 7671 affecting electrical designers installers and those undertaking inspection and testing these will be explained by the team, and questions on these and other aspects of BS 7671 will be answered on the night.

I'm a student it doesn't mean anything to me?

Students are welcome and encouraged, electrical installation students at college will get to learn about the standard which they will be expected to work to when on site.

Electrical engineering students at university will learn about the standard which their designs will need to comply with if they go into the electrical building services arena.

Lecturers, get up to speed with the changes, and you get to ask questions of one of the IET Senior Engineers.

Qualified Supervisors, you need to know the changes too, and we have a good panel here to answer your questions.

Electrical designers, what do the changes mean to your designs?

Come and find out, one and all!

The Institution of Engineering and Technology is registered as a Charity in England and Wales (No. 211014) and Scotland (No. SC038698).
Michael Faraday House, Six Hills Way, Stevenage, Hertfordshire, SG1 2AY, UK

Venue

Swansea.Com Stadium, Landore, Swansea, SA1 2FA.

Contact

Mr Paul Skyrme
paul.skyrme@ietvolunteer.org
Mr Anthony Jones
01792 700222

Book your place at <https://bit.ly/3FFoCaR>

theiet.org/communities

#Networklearncollaborate

