I need to be more assertive when I speak to peers and colleagues and be confident in my viewpoints. I need to believe in myself and the decisions I make and believe others value my input	I will measure my success when I am able to argue points across without sounding pushy and argumentative and do so without questioning myself causing self-doubt. I will also measure success when I am able to demonstrate assertiveness through my body language and in the manner I speak. I will be able to stand with my head high and look at people when I am addressing them rather than look down and avoid eye contact. I will also measure my success by receiving feedback from peers' which state that my views have been insightful and helpful and when others take on my advice and put it into practice	The activities I will undertake are: • use of role plays with friends where I practice different techniques such as body language and the tone in which I speak so I am mindful of my surroundings. I will need to practice how to be assertive without coming across as aggressive. • I will learn to communicate more effectively by reading online material which will provide me with guidance and in-depth information on	• Need the help and support of friends and family so I can practice role play • Online reading material to further understand how to tackle assertiveness. As I have been out of education for 20 years, I need to improve my written language, so it is coherent and flows when reading.	to read my work and give me feedback and suggestions. Positive feedback will be deemed as success. I will also measure my success when I can see how much improvement I have made in the work I have produced over my academic life (Henriquez, 2019). The success will be measured when I achieve 60+ in my work. I want to achieve an overall 2:1 in my BA degree.	• I will watch YouTube videos and online material on how to improve my writing and vocabulary (Conwell, 2022) • I will borrow self-help books from the library to practice formal writing (Berkeley University California, 2023).	• Subscribe to an online writing class Free Writing Courses - Improve Your Writing Online - FutureLearn (Future Learn, 2023) • Utilise Moodle resources • Use Microsoft features such as spell check and Editor when report writing

I need to improve technology skills such as using Microsoft Office Apps specifically Excel and PowerPoint proficiently (Bright Network, 2023).	My success criteria will be achieving a certification from Microsoft Technology Associate (MTA Certification) which will list my qualifications. This will demonstrate my proficiency in a specific technical field and will benefit me in a technical working career (Indeed, 2022).	The activities I will undertake are: - I will keep practicing using Microsoft Office features regularly and by doing so I will have a better understating on how to maximise its functions - I will enrol on to a Microsoft certification program, complete it and achieve a certification (Training.org, 2023).	- Need to free up time in order to enrol on to the program so I can focus and learn - I will need money to fund the program.
