

Joshua Rigbey | Social Media & Marketing

Our marketing team manager was Joshua Rigbey, Joshua was placed in charge of our advertising and social media departments. He had used his position to get in touch with a variety of companies that would potentially be interested in partnering with LastMinuteGames and having their products within our game. Joshua has also taken strides in crafting us a marketing campaign.

Sean Garrington | Business Manager & Website Manager

Sean Garrington was our business manager, anything to do with the business in terms of copyright or intellectual property. He was in charge of writing up our code of conduct, managing our operations and ensuring it all went smoothly, and designing our website. Sean had designed our website and hosted it onto the internet for all to see, he wrote up the gantt chart and assisted with all other aspects of the project as well.

Elsey Harry | Finance Manager

Elsey was our finance manager, He was solely responsible for documenting our costs/profits and then calculating our 5 year prediction. He was responsible for the decision making on what the cost of our game should be, and also assisted Joshua with assessing fair values for partnership deals we would have had if any companies were to take an interest in our project.
