TASK DESCRIPTION

Component 2 – Debate and Supporting Paper – (10 minutes Debate & 1,000 words Supporting Paper) – 50% weighting.

DEBATE:

You will have an oral debate in class with your group on one of the topics you have been given. You are required to consider the Affirmative and Negative of the topic and pick one of the two as your group's standpoint. Each student has 10 minutes to make and support the standpoint of their group.

The debate will be held in Week 7 in class.

Each student will be allocated 5 minutes to present their point and another 5 minutes for rebuttal during the group debate.

The group lecturer will allocate to each group one of the topics below:

Topic 1: Is the use of technology necessary for the elderly UK population or an older person's life?

Topic 2: Does population ageing pose challenges for health and social care systems?

Further guidance about the debate:

- Step One: A Strong Opening. Every good debate starts with a strong opening line.
- Step Two: Defining the Topic. After your opening you need to make that the subject that you are talking about is crystal-clear to your listeners.
- Step Three: Signposting. ['signposting' is the practice of explicitly stating the main points of an argument before; it helps the audience understand the structure of the argument and follow the flow of the debate]
- Step Four: Your Arguments
- Step Five: Conclusion
- Step Six: Rebuttal. [denial or providing counter statement]

SUPPORTING PAPER:

After the debate you are required to submit a 1,000-word supporting paper in which you will explore the key points that you raised during the group debate.

Further guidance about the supporting paper:

The paper should be structured appropriately and address the following:

- What was your standpoint in the debate?
- What were the other views on the debate?
- Reflect on the information provided in the main points discussed during your group debate.
- You must provide statistics on the ageing UK population that are relevant to your topic.
- Explore current government support or services in place to support the UK elderly population.
- Provide in-text citations and a reference list using the UWTSD's Harvard referencing style.
- A minimum of 5 references is required for this supporting paper.

GENERAL SUBMISSION GUIDANCE

- All submissions must include a cover page with your name, student number, lecturers name, module code and title. Use Arial font size 11 with 1.5 line spacing.
- Use an appropriate structure including a reference list following the University's Harvard Referencing style.

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

NOTE: The guidance offered below is linked to the five generic assessment criteria overleaf.

1. Engagement with Literature Skills

Your work must be informed and supported by scholarly material that is relevant to and focused on the task(s) set; you should make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources, where appropriate (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline). You should provide evidence that you have accessed a wide range of sources, which may be academic, governmental and industrial; these sources may include academic journal articles, textbooks, current news articles, organisational documents, and websites. You should consider the credibility of your sources; academic journals are normally highly credible sources while websites require careful consideration/selection and should be used sparingly. Any sources you use should be current and up-to-date, mostly published within the last five years or so, though seminal/important works in the field may be older. You must provide evidence of your research/own reading throughout your work, using a suitable referencing system, including in-text citations in the main body of your work and a reference list at the end of your work.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Students must provide a minimum of 5 references throughout the assignment. Your sources should include books, journals and appropriate websites (such as government websites or AgeUK etc.) Look at current research and interventions (there has been research in this area since Covid 19). Should use the University's Harvard Referencing for in-text citations and the references list.

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills

At level 6, you should be able to demonstrate coherent and detailed knowledge and a systematic understanding of the subject area, at least some of which is informed by the latest research and/or advanced scholarship within the discipline. You should be aware of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge. Your work must demonstrate the growing extent of your knowledge and systematic understanding of concepts and underlying principles associated with the subject area. Knowledge relates to the facts, information and skills you have acquired through your learning. You demonstrate your understanding by interpreting the meaning of the facts and information (knowledge). This means that you need to select and include in your work the concepts, techniques, models, theories, etc. appropriate to the task(s) set. You should be able to explain the theories, concepts, etc. meaningfully to show your understanding. Your mark/grade will also depend upon the extent to which you demonstrate your knowledge and understanding; ideally each should be complete and detailed, with comprehensive coverage.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Ensure that your work addresses the criteria set out in the task description and the relevant learning outcomes. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the experiences of older people- particularly those receiving care. Look at the issues that may be associated with technology and provision of care services. Consider current service provision that addresses this and how it has changed in recent times. Explore theories of ageing and policy in this area.

3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills

You should be able to: critically evaluate evidence, arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data some of which are at the forefront of a discipline (and that may be incomplete) to devise and sustain arguments, to make judgements and/or solve problems; describe and comment upon particular aspects of current research, or equivalent advanced scholarship, in the discipline. Your work must contain evidence of logical, analytical thinking, evaluation and synthesis. For example, to examine and break information down into parts, make inferences, compile, compare and contrast information. This means not just describing what! But also justifying: Why? How? When? Who? Where? At what cost? At all times, you must provide justification for your arguments and judgements. Evidence that you have reflected upon the ideas of others within the subject area is crucial to you providing a reasoned and informed debate within your work. Furthermore, you should provide evidence that you are able to make sound judgements and convincing arguments using data and concepts. Sound, valid conclusions are necessary and must be derived from the content of your work. Where relevant, alternative solutions and recommendations may be proposed.

Guidance specific to this assessment: You should aim to compare findings and evaluate the effectiveness of current policy and interventions regarding topic. Look at new interventions available in the area and evaluate. Recommendations for improvement must be included.

4. Practical Skills

At level 6, you should be able to apply the methods and techniques that you have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply your knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects. You will deploy accurately established techniques of analysis and enquiry relevant to the discipline, and apply them in complex and unpredictable contexts, to devise and sustain arguments and/or to solve problems. You should be able to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution - or identify a range of solutions. You should be able to demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations and/or a particular context. How do they work in practice? You will deploy models, methods, techniques, and/or theories, in that context or circumstances, to assess current situations, perhaps to formulate plans or solutions to solve problems, or to create artefacts, some of which may be innovative and creative. This is likely to involve, for instance, the use of real-world artefacts, examples and cases, the application of a model within an organisation and/or benchmarking one theory or organisation against others based on stated criteria. You should show awareness of the limitations of concepts and theories when applied in particular contexts.

Guidance specific to this assessment: You should aim to use current examples of best practices implemented (What works and where?) Explore reasons for your viewpoint.

5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice

Your work must provide evidence of the qualities and transferable skills necessary for graduate-level employment requiring the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility and decision-making in complex and unpredictable circumstances. This includes demonstrating: the learning ability for professional development to advance existing skills and acquire new competences of a professional nature that will enable you to assume significant responsibility within organisations; that you can initiate and complete tasks and procedures, whether individually and/or collaboratively; that you can use appropriate media to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences; fluency of expression; clarity and effectiveness in presentation and organisation. Work should be coherent and well-structured in presentation and organisation.

Guidance specific to this assessment: Ensure that your essay is correctly formatted, well-structured and fluent and follows a logical progression. Your report should be written in an academic manner appropriate for level 6 with a full reference list. An understanding of the importance of the need for change and recommendations for improvement should be illustrated.
