

What what do we mean by representation and why is it important?

The action of speaking or acting on behalf of someone or the state of being so represented.

It is like symbolisation it's one thing that it cannot mean the thing itself but something else. It symbolises much more than it seems. It is important because that makes it inclusive one thing can mean numerous things depends on the view to act on behalf of other people in the best possible way. its important because some people may need a voice

Representation, to me, means using our field of work or creativity to highlight and bring awareness to an issue in a way that people can identify with and understand.

An honest depiction of society. For example: a performance of 50 cast members should realistically have 5 gay men. If they have none, it is not an honest representation of our society

A variety of diversities being present in most situations, important so that people don't feel isolated or that they don't fit in Showing, understanding and being aware. Making sure everyone feels included.

What benefits do diverse groups bring to the creative process and/or creative sessions?
