Thank you Lisa, very much appreciated.

I must say that I am committed to working with you and the partnerships in delivering the culture change. Yesterday, I was participating on the PADR course with Dan Blyth, and what a wonderful two hours it was!! It's going to be a long road, but thank you so much for transforming your department and our organisation thus far – the seeds planted and starting to shoot.

Speak soon and kind regards,

Richard

Good afternoon Lisa, and colleagues.

I hope this email finds you well.

Since “retiring” from my role as Branch Secretary/workplace representative for UNITE, I have been convinced to come out of my short retirement by members and take on the role again. Regional office has agreed, and will be informing workforce formally in due course.

The feedback I received was quite moving from staff, and they wanted me to return – so, I look forward to working with you all again on the various forums from time to time.

Kind Regards,

Richard
