

(14)

YU Yan (May)

I chose the visual communication was because of my PhD course was visual communication too. I like to make stories in different ways, not just in novel, also in comic or a series of illustrations. Then I thought "why can't I make some stories that could let people interact with it?" So I began to make games. I think to express the idea, the stories with visual language is an important part, that's the main reason about chose the visual communication as my major.

(15)

Name: Shiyong Wang

English Name: CoCo.

First, I like animation when I was a child. And I believe that children and young people like animation very much. Second, The most important is that my major ^{in UHUT} is closely related to this course.

(16)

Name: XI Wen.

The most important reason is: that I am interested in animation. I majored Fine art study in China and I go here to study for the double master degree. My study field is digital media and animation in China. As the result, I want to learn something new to improve my basic skills and help me finish my study in China.