REFERENCING HANDBOOK

HARVARD

UWTSD: Library and Learning Resources

Version 1.2

Welcome

Welcome to the 1st revised edition of the University of Wales Trinity Saint David's Referencing Handbooks!

Referencing accurately is an essential skill to learn during your studies, and these handbooks are designed to support you in your learning and help you to navigate what can sometimes seem quite confusing. The referencing handbooks are available for the four styles used at UWTSD, with suggestions for further, in-depth resources and advice on getting support from your Academic Liaison Librarian.

We would like to thank the academic staff involved for their time and input in developing these handbooks, and hope these provide a useful resource.

We are happy to receive feedback on these guides, which will be reviewed. Please contact library@uwtsd.ac.uk with any suggestions.

Introduction

There are four recommended referencing styles in use at the University of Wales Trinity Saint David:

- APA (American Psychological Association)
- Harvard
- IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers)
- MHRA (Modern Humanities Research Association)

You can find out which referencing standard you should be using by looking in your Programme Handbook. All of the referencing handbooks are available online: https://uwtsd.ac.uk/library/student-essentials/referencing-handbooks/

A shorter, handy, quick reference version is also available either online or in your nearest UWTSD library.

How do I use this guide?

The purpose of this handbook is to provide you with the basic principles of referencing, and to get you started in understanding the how and why of referencing. This handbook provides examples of how to produce in-text citations and references from a selection of some of the most widely used sources you may encounter over the course of your studies.

An example of how the reference should appear in your text will be shown in this box.

An example of how the reference should appear in your reference list or bibliography will be shown in this box.

However, this guide is not intended to be exhaustive, and additional examples and guidance can be found in:

Pears, R. and Shields, G. (2019) Cite them right: the essential referencing guide. 11th edn. Basingstoke: Palgrave.

Copies can be found in all UWTSD libraries.

What is referencing?

When producing an academic assignment, you will be expected to acknowledge other people's work by referencing them in a recognised and consistent format. You will also need to provide details of the resources you have read for your assignment. There are a number of reasons why this is necessary:

- To demonstrate the breadth of research you have undertaken.
- To add academic credibility to your arguments.
- To enable readers to find the sources you have used in your work.
- To acknowledge the work of others and avoid accidental plagiarism.

How do I avoid plagiarism?

Accurate referencing also means you avoid plagiarism, which is passing off someone else's work as your own. The University's full definition of plagiarism can be found within the University regulations: http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/university-regulations-student-guide/

Plagiarism can be deliberate or accidental; without accurate referencing, it is possible to accidentally plagiarise someone else's work. Therefore, understanding when and how to reference will help you to easily avoid this.

Do you have any tips before I begin my work?

- Make sure that you know which referencing style your School recommends before you begin. This information is included in your Programme Handbook.
- Keep a record of the sources you read as you go along.
- Be consistent in the records you keep and in the way you reference.
- Give yourself enough time to check your work.
- Try to put yourself in the shoes of the reader. Think: "if I wanted to find the source of this information, could I?"
- If in doubt, seek clarification or ask for help!

How can I get further help and support?

You will be given an in-class session on referencing during the first year of your course, and regular workshops and drop-in opportunities are also made available throughout the academic year via our InfoSkills programme: http://uwtsd.ac.uk/library/infoskills/. Follow @UWTSDLib on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram for updates on when and where these will be held.

There is a dedicated Academic Liaison Librarian for each academic area, and their role is to support you with a variety of information skills throughout your course. Find out who your Academic Liaison Librarian is and book an appointment here: https://uwtsd.ac.uk/library/student-essentials/meet-your-academic-liaison-librarian/ or by popping into your nearest UWTSD library.

Support for referencing is also available from Student Services, and study skills drop-ins are available across the campuses.

Students at Partner Institutions should check with the library at their home institution to find out which standard they should be using and where to get support.

Harvard Referencing: The Basics

The Harvard referencing style consists of:

In-text citations

These are used when referring to a source of information within the text of your assignment to show where it came from. They are abbreviated details of the source you are referring to and generally consist of the author's / editor's surname, year of publication and, if required, page numbers e.g. (Pears and Shields, 2016, p. 6).

You do not need to include the author's surname in the in-text citation if it is referred to within the body of your work e.g. According to Pears and Shields (2006, p.6). This would just be unnecessary repetition!

A reference list

The purpose of the in-text citation is to refer you to the full details of the publication within a full reference list or bibliography at the end of your work. Full publication details of the citation should be found in the reference list at the end of your assignment. This contains the full bibliographical record of the references cited in your text e.g.

Pears, R. and Shields, G. (2016) Cite them right: the essential referencing guide. 10th rev. edn. Basingstoke: Palgrave.

It should enable any reader to locate your original source. A reference list is arranged in alphabetical order by the author's surname or, if there is no author, by title. A bibliography can also sometimes be requested by your tutor. A bibliography is a list of all the sources you have read for your assignment, whether or not you have cited them in your text and therefore more exhaustive than a reference list. If you're not sure which is required, ask your lecturer.

How do I quote, paraphrase and summarise in my work?

Quotations

A quotation means that you take the exact wording as used by another author and insert it in your work. Direct quotations should be used sparingly and only when they are relevant to the argument you are making in your work.

Long quotation – more than 30 words or 2 lines

Format:

- Enter as a separate paragraph
- Indent the paragraph
- Quotation marks are not required
- Author's surname, year of publication and page number / URL enclosed (in round brackets)

Example:

King describes the intertwining of fate and memory in many evocative passages such as:

> So the three of them rode towards their end of the Great Road, while summer lay all about them, breathless as a gasp. Roland looked up and saw something that made him forget all about the Wizard's Rainbow. It was his mother, leaning out of her apartment's bedroom window: the oval of her face surrounded by the timeless gray stone of the castle's west wing!
> (King, 1997, pp. 553-554)

Short quotation – up to 30 words or 2 lines

Format:

- Include in the body of text
- Enclose in double quotation marks
- Author's surname, year of publication and page number / URL enclosed (in round brackets)

Example:

Hardy's characters are not simple types. They are "fully realized human beings, with all their potential for individual freedom of choice and action" (Dunmore, 2017, p. 35).

Paraphrasing and summarising

Paraphrasing is when you take someone else's idea and put it into your own words. Summarising is when you provide a brief overview of someone else's idea. You would only need to provide a page number if you are referring to a very specific area or part of the text. You will need to use your judgment as to whether this is necessary. Put yourself in the shoes of the reader: are you referring to a whole work or concept or a very small part of it?

Example:

Dunmore (2017) notes that Hardy presents the reader with rounded characters capable of acting with autonomy, but that these are placed in a context in which their choices are severely constrained by the operation of chance and fate. This she ascribes to the intellectual environment in which he wrote – in particular, the pessimistic spiritual context of late Victorian England.

How do I reference specific types of resources?

1. Books and e-books

Most references to books should adhere to the following general format. Elements may vary slightly. Specific examples are provided.

In-text citation: (Author's surname, year of publication, page number)	Reference list / Bibliography: • Author/editor • Publication year (in round brackets) • Title (in italics) • Edition (if relevant) • Place of publication: publisher
(Smith, 2016, p. 5)	Smith, E. (2016) How to improve your research project. 2nd edn. Plymouth: Kiln Press.

As print and electronic books are virtually identical, there is no need to indicate whether or not it is electronic unless the electronic version is not an identical version of a print publication.

1.1 Book with two or three authors

(Phillips and Renton, 2012, p. 54)	Phillips, E.O. and Renton, P. (2012) Teaching mathematics today. Reading: Canalside Press.

1.2 Book with four or more authors

(Morton et al. 2014, p. 37)	Morton, A.C. et al. (2014) Walking and learning. Swansea: Sandpaper Press.

1.3 Chapter within an edited book

(Hardy, 2015, p. 53)	Hardy, P.T. (2015) 'Outdoor play and how it can help learning', in Walker, E. (ed.) A new approach to teaching in the primary school. London: Todcaster and Frome.

1.4 Book without an author or editor

In this case you would use the title rather than the author. When listing in the reference list and/or bibliography you would list it alphabetically but by its title.

(How to make an impact, 2009, p. 1)	How to make an impact (2009) London: Avery and Perch.

How do I reference specific types of resources?

1.5 Book with an organisation as author

In this case, the name of the Organisation is treated as the author.

(Organisation for Research into Primary Education, 2017, p. 21)

Organisation for Research into Primary Education. (2017) Learning today. Stirling: McPhee and Jones.

1.6 Multiple works by the same author

Simply label them a and b!

Different years:
(McNamara, 2012, p. 53)

(McNamara, 2017, p. 20).

Same year:
(Phelps, 2016a, p. 25)

(Phelps, 2016b, p.19)

Different years:
McNamara, B.M. (2012) Education for life. Maidenhead: Riverstory.

McNamara, B.M. (2017) Lifelong learning. Maidenhead: Riverstory.

Same year:
Phelps, P.J. (2016a) Healthy learning. Edinburgh: Castle Books.

Phelps, P.J. (2016b) Nutrition in the early years. Edinburgh: Castle Books.

1.7 Editions

According to O'Brien (2016, pp. 15-17) siblings can have a big impact on learning.
or
Siblings can have a big impact on learning (O'Brien, 2016, pp. 15-17).

O'Brien, T.M. (2016) The impact of families on learning. 3rd edn. Dublin: Blackwater Books.

1.8 Secondary citation

This is a piece of work that has been referred to in something you have read. Where possible, avoid secondary citations, and access the original work.

Barnett (2013, quoted in Morton, 2016, p. 17) describes "the importance of meeting special needs in the early years".

Barnett's demonstration of the importance of meeting special needs in the early years (2013, cited in Morton, 2016, p. 17) is interesting.

Morton, D.C. (2016) Learning in the early years. Exeter: Jones & Bart.

Note:
If you have not read the primary source, do not include it in your reference list – you may only cite it in your text.

7. Legal and government publications

The following examples of legal publications are given in author-date (Harvard) format. This may vary from referencing systems, such as the Oxford Standard for the Citation of Legal Authorities (OSCOLA), which are used in many UK law schools.

7.1 Act of Parliament (Statute)

In-text citation: (Title of act (in italics) include year)	Reference list / Bibliography: • Title of act (in italics) include year and chapter • Available at: URL • (Accessed: date)
Government legislation now reinforces this approach (Enhanced Urban Air Quality Act 2017).	Enhanced Urban Air Quality Act 2017, c. 2. Available at: http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2017/2/contents/enacted (Accessed: 14 March). Note: Include country information (in round) brackets only if you are referencing more than one country's legislation.

7.2 Statutory Instrument (SI)

Language

Usually, references should be cited in their original language, regardless of the language you are writing in yourself e.g.

Rappin, B., (2018). 'Une herméneutique du texte taylorien: Exception, coopération, amitié.' Revue Française de Gestion, 44(276), pp.33-45

However if they are also in a different script, they should still remain in their original language but be provided in the script that your own work uses i.e. most likely, Latin script unless you are writing your assignment in Chinese or Islamic script e.g.

鷲田清一. (2007) 京都の平熱 : 哲学者の都市案内. 東京: 講談社

should be changed to:

Washida, K. (2007) Kyōto no heinetsu: tetsugakusha no toshi annai. Tōkyō: Kōdansha.

Referencing software

Once you have mastered the basics of referencing using this handbook and the recommended supporting resources, you can consider progressing onto an online software. The Library provides access to RefWorks, which is an online programme that helps you to record your sources in one place and supports you in referencing them. It can be accessed via the library website, using your UWTSD login: https://uwtsd.ac.uk/library/student-essentials/refworks/

There are also a variety of open source alternatives such as Zotero and Mendeley which provide similar functionality, however please be aware the UWTSD does not support use of these platforms or provide any related software on UWTSD IT equipment.

Although referencing software can be a hugely useful tool for organising your research, it is not always 100% accurate and is not a substitute for developing these skills yourself. An understanding of referencing, before you move onto using one of these platforms, is advisable; it is essential to check your references for accuracy, especially for punctuation and capitalisation.

However, if you feel you are ready to use referencing software or would like to find out more about it, please make use of the online tutorials available on the RefWorks site, or contact your Academic Liaison Librarian who will be happy to support you.
