INTRODUCTION

This handbook provides you with detailed information about your course, or Programme of Study, and about the modules that will be offered for study at Level 4 in the academic year 2015-2016.

The University has made every effort to make the information as full and as accurate as possible, but you should note that minor changes in the organisation of modules between the planning stage and the actual teaching are inevitable. We shall try to keep any such changes to a minimum, and you will receive plenty of advance warning in the event of any alteration. We would also be grateful if you would let us know about any changes that you think might be helpful if introduced into future handbooks.

CURRENT MEMBERS OF STAFF

The following members of staff will be teaching on your Programme of Study:

Names and Contact Details

NAME	PHONE	E-MAIL ADDRESS
Dr Christine Jones (Programme Director)	01267 676774 01570 424931	c.m.jones@uwtsd.ac.uk
Mrs Gwen Davies	01570 424898	g.j.davies@uwtsd.ac.uk
Ms Ashley Beard	Teaching Fellow	a.beard@uwtsd.ac.uk
Mrs Carol Thomas	External tutor

Additional residential module staff

Professor Jane Cartwright	01570 424870	j.cartwright@uwtsd.ac.uk
Mr Andrew Currie	01267 676846	a.currie@uwtsd.ac.uk
Gwyn Nicholas	Language tutor

Pastoral Support

A member of academic staff will be identified at the beginning of the academic year to act as a point of first contact for all pastoral support issues. Details of the arrangements for Pastoral Support are contained in the University Regulations – Undergraduate Student Guide which is published on the Academic Office section on the University's website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/university-regulations-student-guide/>

ACADEMIC YEAR 2015/2016

The academic year 2015/2016 will be divided up as follows:

Semester 1: 28/09/15 – 15/01/16

Orals: Week commencing 18/01/16

Semester 2: 25/01/16 – 13/05/16

Orals: Week commencing 16/05/16

Semester 3: 23/05/16 – 09/09/16

Orals: Week commencing 12/09/16

It is vitally important that the University Registry has an accurate record of your personal details at all times. It is equally important to ensure that you are registered on the correct Programme of Study and on the correct modules. Failure to inform the Registry of any changes in this respect is likely to cause some or all of the following problems:

- delay in obtaining your student loan;
- failure to keep you generally informed;
- failure to contact you in an emergency;
- clashes on your examination timetable and delays in its production;
- failure to progress to the next level of study as a result of not completing sufficient credits at the correct level;
- delay in graduation as a result of not completing sufficient credits at the correct level;
- general inefficiencies in administrative processes resulting in delays for other students.

DISCLOSURE AND BARRING SERVICE (DBS) – ENHANCED

If your programme involves you coming into contact with children or vulnerable adults, you will be required to undertake a DBS check (Enhanced). Further details will be provided by the University Registry or Head of School.

As part of each programme's procedures relating to DBS, continuing students will normally be required to inform their Programme Director immediately of any change to their criminal convictions status.

You will also be asked to complete a formal self declaration during the registration period at the beginning of the academic year, which confirms your criminal conviction status. This declaration will be kept within Registry and a copy provided to the relevant Faculty Administrative Officer with responsibility for DBS checks.

MODULAR TERMINOLOGY

The following terms are used extensively in all documentation relating to modular Programmes of Study. You should read the descriptions very carefully:

Level (of Study):

A level is assigned to each module to define the standard of its academic demand in line with the National Qualifications Framework which incorporates both Further Education and Higher Education.

The level is not necessarily synonymous with a year, though very often Level 4 will be the first year of a Programme of Study, Level 5 will be the second year, and Level 6 will be the third year. The basic characteristics of the relevant levels of study may be defined as follows:

Level 4:

Achievement at Level 4 reflects the ability to identify and use relevant understanding, methods and skills to address problems that are well-defined but complex and non-routine. It includes taking responsibility for overall courses of action as well as exercising autonomy and judgement within broad parameters. It also reflects understanding of different perspectives or approaches within an area of study or work.

Level 5:

Achievement at Level 5 reflects the ability to identify and use relevant understanding, methods and skills to address broadly-defined, complex problems. It includes taking responsibility for planning and developing courses of action as well as exercising autonomy and judgement within broad parameters. It also reflects understanding of different perspectives, approaches or schools of thought and the reasoning behind them.

Level 6:

Achievement at Level 6 reflects the ability to refine and use relevant understanding, methods and skills to address complex problems that have limited definition. It includes taking responsibility for planning and developing courses of action that are able to underpin substantial change or development, as well as exercising broad autonomy and judgement. It also reflects an understanding of different perspectives, approaches or schools of thought and the theories that underpin them.

Level 7:

Achievement at Level 7 reflects the ability to reformulate and use relevant understanding, methodologies and approaches to address problematic situations that involve many interacting factors. It includes taking responsibility for planning and developing courses of action that initiate or underpin substantial change or development, as well as exercising broad autonomy and judgement. It also reflects an understanding of the relevant theoretical and methodological perspectives and how they affect their area of study or work.

ASSESSMENT

At the start of each module, tutors will provide full details of the means by which you will be assessed in that module. This will include clear guidelines on the criteria that will be used for marking your work.

Assessed written coursework is generally submitted in electronic copy via Turnitin; alternative instructions will be provided by the Programme Director for any forms of coursework that cannot be submitted via Turnitin.

If you have registered on Welsh-medium modules, you will normally be required to complete the assessment through the medium of Welsh. Whenever possible, and subject to the constraints of the programme aims, students following modules delivered through the medium of English may be assessed through the medium of Welsh if they wish to do so.

You will receive a transcript of your assessment marks at the end of each year. Note that any marks released prior to formal approval by the Progression / Award Examining Board are provisional.

Extenuating Circumstances

If you believe that there are extenuating circumstances which may have adversely affected your ability to complete coursework or examinations, you should follow the University's procedures for Extenuating Circumstances for Taught Provision, which can be found on the Academic Office section on the University's website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/procedures-for-academic-appeals-complaints-and-other-student-cases/>

Special needs in terms of assessment

If you have any special needs in terms of assessment, it is your responsibility to liaise with Student Services regarding those needs at the start of the academic year, so that a Statement of Compensatory Measures can be drafted in line with the University's procedures for assessment of students with special needs.

Note that the period between the end of the summer examinations and the end of the summer term is an independent study period, which should be used to prepare for your next year of study. Further details will be provided by your Programme Director.

Academic Appeals

Information about how to appeal is provided in the 'Academic Appeal Procedure' in Chapter 13 of the Academic Quality Handbook, and in supporting documentation published on the Academic Office section on the University's website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/procedures-for-academic-appeals-complaints-and-other-student-cases/>

Additional advice is available from the Students' Union. It is very important that you note carefully the grounds on which appeals may be made and submit your appeal on the appropriate form because incomplete or ineligible appeals cannot be processed.

Assessment Regulations

The rules and regulations that govern the assessment of your Programme of Study are available in Chapters 6 and 7 of the University's Academic Quality Handbook, a copy of which is available on the Academic Office section of the website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/>

Responsibilities of students in relation to the assessment process

As noted in section 7.3(5) of Chapter 7 of the Academic Quality Handbook, students are responsible for ensuring that:

- i) They read and understand the information provided about how they will be assessed, how their final award will be determined, and the action to take in the event that they experience difficulties relating to assessment.
- ii) They attempt every assessment component of a module.
- iii) They attend examinations and other assessment events, including re-examination and re-assessment events, as required; and that they are available to attend oral examinations if required to do so within the published dates of terms or semesters, or other date notified to them in advance.
- iv) They submit work for assessment as required and in accordance with the required format and deadline.
- v) They inform their School or Student Services of any disability or long term impairment which might require special provisions for assessment.
- vi) They familiarise themselves with the University's definition of unfair practice and undertake assessments in a manner that does not attempt to gain unfair advantage.
- vii) They follow the prescribed procedures in the event that they experience extenuating circumstances or wish to appeal against the decision of an Examining Board.
- viii) They keep a copy of work presented for assessment wherever feasible.
- ix) They make their work available for sampling for external examining purposes and for archiving.

VIRTUAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENT (VLE)

Moodle is the University's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). The VLE is used to support learning and teaching. In the case of this Certificate in Practical Welsh all the materials are accessed via Moodle. Moodle can be accessed by enrolled students from anywhere in the world using the internet and a web browser.

Some of Moodle's features allow students to:

- Access course materials
- Facilitate communication between students and tutors
- Support group tasks
- Take online assessments with automatic marking and feedback facilities

Moodle can be used for administration tasks such as:

- Displaying announcements e.g. lecture venue changed
- Submission of assignments electronically
- Administration of online surveys, such as module questionnaires

How to Access:

From Swansea:

PROGRAMME OF STUDY

Programme Aims and Learning Outcomes

Programme Aims

The aims of the programmes are to:

- enable students to use the target language [Welsh] as a medium of understanding, expression and communication including;
- understand the syntax and attributes of Welsh;
- recognise, appreciate and employ the expressive power of language;
- develop basic communication skills in speech and writing;
- demonstrate a grasp of the technical terms and vocabulary of the discipline;
- display knowledge and understanding of the Welsh language;
- employ language for creative and imaginative purposes;
- respond to an opinion and to express a personal opinion;
- summarise the ideas and arguments of others;
- to ensure an appreciation of internal diversity and transcultural connectedness, and an attitude of curiosity and openness towards other cultures. The skills and attributes they [students] develop will include:
- a critical understanding of a culture and practices other than one's own;
- an ability to function in another culture;
- an appreciation of the uniqueness of the other culture(s);
- an ability and willingness to engage with other cultures;
- develop skills to enable learners to access primary and secondary source materials in [Welsh] in order to gain first-hand knowledge of the cultures, communities and societies where the [Welsh] language is used.

Programme Learning Outcomes

The programmes' educational aims will enable learners to:

(i) Knowledge and understanding

- develop practical linguistic skills including possession of sufficient language resources to discuss topics in a polished fashion, both orally and in writing;
- acquire the ability to analyse language and its use in different situations;
- develop technical skills appropriate to the discipline, such as accessing Moodle to obtain resources and information regarding the modules;
- establish where appropriate, the ability to use the language for the purpose of creative writing;
- communicate effectively and fluently in speech and writing.

(ii) Cognitive (thinking) skills

- use language creatively and precisely for a range of purposes and audiences;
- extract and synthesise key information from written and spoken sources;
- work independently, demonstrating initiative and self-organisation;
- manage their own learning self-critically;
- be intellectually prepared for effective learning of an unfamiliar language;
- communicate, present and interact effectively;

- work creatively and flexibly with others as part of a team;
- self-reliance, initiative, adaptability and flexibility.

(iii) Practical skills

- use and present material in the target language and one's own language in written and oral forms in a clear and effective manner;
- work autonomously, manifested in self-direction, self-discipline and time management;
- use target language source materials appropriately;
- write and think under pressure and meet deadlines;
- access electronic resources and use information and communication technologies (ICT) appropriately including the ability to gather, assess, and use information from electronic source.

(iv) Key skills

- express themselves proficiently in Welsh, both orally and in writing;
- demonstrate organisational skills in relation to set tasks;
- edit work and present it in a clear and accomplished form.

Level 4

Students will need to achieve 60 credits at Level 4 in order to receive a Certificate in Practical Welsh.

Modules

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

Structure: Part-time Students

Certificate in Practical Welsh (Foundation) – 60 credits

CYPW4001 and CYPW4002 are compulsory for all. These modules are completely online. On completion of these, students have the option of choosing CYPW4003 which contains a residential element on the Lampeter campus, together with a series of written exercises, or CYPW4004 which is all online.

LEVEL 4

Module Code	Title	Module type (core, compulsory or optional)	Credits
CYPW4001	Camu at y Gymraeg: Foundation Welsh 1	Compulsory	20
CYPW4002	Camu at y Gymraeg: Foundation Welsh 2	Compulsory	20
CYPW4003	Cyfoethogi'r Cyfathrebu: Foundation	Optional	20
CYPW4004	Ymarfer Ysgrifennu: Foundation	Optional	20

Certificate in Practical Welsh (Intermediate) – 60 credits

CYPW4005 and CYPW4006 are compulsory for all. These are both all online. On completion of these, students have the option of choosing CYPW4007, which contains a residential element on the Lampeter campus together with a series of written exercises or CYPW4008 which is all online.

LEVEL 4

Module Code	Title	Module type (core, compulsory or optional)	Credits
CYPW4005	Camu at y Gymraeg: Intermediate Welsh 1	Compulsory	20
CYPW4006	Camu at y Gymraeg: Intermediate Welsh 2	Compulsory	20
CYPW4007	Cyfoethogi'r Cyfathrebu: Intermediate	Optional	20
CYPW4008	Ymarfer Ysgrifennu: Intermediate	Optional	20

The residential module for this academic year will be held between 11th-15th July 2016. Full board accommodation is available at an additional charge of approximately £55 per day. Further details are available from Gwen Davies g.j.davies@uwtsd.ac.uk

Module details are correct on 1 September 2015, and will not normally be changed during the year. In the unlikely event of the School having to make changes to these details during the year, you will be notified in writing.

One student from the Programme will be elected to the School's Staff Student Consultative Committee which meets up to three times per year to discuss general student issues regarding the provision.

JACS CODE:	Q560

AIM(S)

- To develop skills in speaking, listening, reading and writing Welsh at a basic level.
- To develop a general understanding of key points of Welsh grammar.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this module students should be able to:

- demonstrate the ability to speak and understand basic Welsh in a wide range of familiar contexts;
- display an understanding of Welsh pronunciation and an appreciation of and awareness of key grammatical and syntactical features;
- apply what they have learnt in a range of grammatical and communicative exercises, using technology where appropriate.

CONTENT

- This module is designed to develop the skills needed to speak and understand simple Welsh in everyday situations, e.g. greetings, the weather, describing family and friends, socialising, etc. It also provides a structured overview of key grammatical and syntactical aspects of the Welsh language in a communicative context. Pronunciation and basic linguistic patterns will be introduced and reinforced by a blend of text based materials, videos clips and sound files. --. Students will also be able to affirm their communicative and grammatical skills with the help of formative interactive exercises which as well as supporting independent learning, will aid in the building of self-confidence and help consolidate understanding. No previous knowledge of the Welsh language is required.

ASSESSMENT

4 written linguistic assignments equivalent to 2,200 words (80%)
6 minute oral examination (20%)

Example assignment:

The translation of a news bulletin and the formation of a series of questions based on the bulletin.

AIM(S)

- To enhance general communicative skills in the Welsh language.
- To further develop a basic knowledge of key grammatical features of Welsh.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this module students should be able to:

- display a high level of accuracy with regard to pronunciation and intonation skills;
- effectively use a wide range of general vocabulary and variety of structures as appropriate to the level;
- demonstrate a clear understanding of the basic spoken language and key elements of Welsh grammar;
- apply what they have learnt in a range of grammatical and communicative exercises, using technology where appropriate.

CONTENT

- This module is designed to develop a range of language skills needed to speak and understand Welsh in numerous everyday situations at basic level, e.g. visiting the doctor, telling the time, shopping, etc. Emphasis is placed on pronunciation and more complex linguistic patterns will be introduced to give a structured overview of key aspects of the Welsh language. Students will be given the opportunity to undertake written tasks and varied language exercises to consolidate the critical use of grammar and to help form an awareness of register and style. The module contains, video clips, communicative group activities through the student forum on Moodle and formative interactive exercises, all of which will aid the development of written and oral skills and grammatical awareness.

ASSESSMENT

3 written linguistic assignments equivalent to 2,000 words (75%)
8 minute oral examination (25%)

Example assignment:

Cloze activity – i.e. filling of gaps in a piece of prose followed by a brief grammatical explanation of the forms used.

AIM(S)

- To enhance day-to-day communicative skills and a basic understanding of Welsh grammar through an intense period of concentrated study.
- To develop knowledge of Welsh culture and society.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this module students should be able to:

- display accurate pronunciation and intonation skills;
- demonstrate effective use of a wide range of general vocabulary and a variety of key grammatical structures as appropriate to the level;
- demonstrate an enhanced appreciation of Welsh society and culture through the communicative tasks.

CONTENT

- The emphasis in this module is on practical sessions focusing on a mixture of structured pair and team activities to foster and confirm oral confidence and deepen grammatical knowledge. Using a wide range of general vocabulary, students will be given the opportunity to develop and enhance their communicative skills during a five day residential following a period of home preparation. A variety of mediums such as recorded material, video clips, etc will be used to support the learning and during the residential field trips to places such as the National Library of Wales and The National Wool Museum will also be undertaken to help support cultural understanding. Summative written assessments based on these experiences are completed following the residential element.

ASSESSMENT

12 minute general oral discussion on the field trips. (50%)
2 written assignments of 750 words each based on linguistic patterns and grammar studied in the residential session. (50%)

Example assignment:

The production of detailed written answers to a series of grammatically varied questions about the National Welsh Wool Museum

AIM(S)

- To enhance basic knowledge of written Welsh language skills.
- To provide an opportunity to reflect on and consolidate their understanding of the Welsh language and Welsh culture and society.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this module students should be able to:

- translate simple passages from Welsh-English and from English-Welsh demonstrating a basic understanding of Welsh grammar, syntax and lexis;
- express themselves effectively using a range of vocabulary and a variety of structures as appropriate to the level;
- demonstrate an enhanced understanding of Welsh culture;
- compose extended pieces of simple Welsh prose.

CONTENT

- This module encourages students to apply and expand their knowledge of Welsh grammar, syntax and lexis. The first section focuses on reviewing and consolidating existing knowledge of Welsh verbs and is assessed through the translation of a series of short pieces from Welsh to English. The second section places emphasis on the syntactical differences between English and Welsh and students' understanding and interpretation of these is assessed through translations from English to Welsh. The final section looks in general at styles and registers and this involves a number of extended written tasks on a range of general topics. As well as strengthening students' understanding of Welsh grammar, thereby ensuring effective communication, the module also introduces aspects of Welsh culture through the translation pieces and vidcasts on the website. Group participation is encouraged through the grammar forum on Moodle.

ASSESSMENT

Submission of translations and written exercises equivalent to 3,000 words

Assignment 1 (30%)

Assignment 2 (30%)

Assignment 3 (40%)

Example assignment:

Translation of an article in Lingo Newydd into English.

AIM(S)

- To enhance communicative skills through the medium of Welsh, enabling students to communicate both orally and on paper with increasing confidence in a range of everyday situations and contexts.
- To consolidate and further develop a knowledge of Welsh grammar, syntax and lexis.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- demonstrate the ability to use a broad base of general listening, speaking and writing skills commensurate with the level;
- demonstrate the ability to select appropriate information from a range of sources which use fairly common, every-day language;
- display a wide vocabulary base and a sound understanding of the major grammatical and syntactical constructions of the Welsh language;
- apply that which they have learnt, using information technology to do so, where appropriate.

CONTENT

- This module enables students to develop a range of production and comprehension Welsh language skills at intermediate level. Students have the opportunity to increase their fluency in every-day usage, whilst revising and extending their understanding and appreciation of grammatical structures, thereby broadening their vocabulary base. Video and sound files together with electronic self-assessment tests in Moodle are used to strengthen communicative skills and provide formative assessment between summative assignments. Along with a range of grammar and comprehension exercises, students are also required to submit short prose compositions on familiar topics or topics of personal interest.

ASSESSMENT

3 written linguistic assignments (equivalent to 1,800 words (60%))
10 minute general oral examination (30%)
5 minute oral role play (10%)

Example assignments:

Compose a blog extract to a friend describing a recent visit to Paris.

Role play: Ask your line manager (the tutor) for an afternoon off work to take your daughter to hospital.

AIM(S)

- To further enhance communicative skills, enabling students to communicate both orally and on paper with confidence in a range of situations relevant to the home and the workplace.
- To reinforce and extend students' knowledge of Welsh grammar, syntax and lexis.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- demonstrate competence in a broad base of listening, speaking and writing skills commensurate with the level;
- demonstrate the ability to select appropriate information from a range of texts which use everyday and job-related language;
- display an extended vocabulary base and a solid understanding of key grammatical and syntactical features;
- apply that which they have learned, using information technology to do so, where appropriate.

CONTENT

- This module concentrates on strengthening a range of production and comprehension language skills in the spoken and written language at intermediate level. Students have the opportunity to increase their fluency with regard to day-to-day matters, while revising and developing their understanding and application of grammatical structures and increasing their vocabulary base, particularly in relation to the world of work. Video and sound files together with self-assessment tests in Moodle, will be used to strengthen communicative skills and grammatical understanding and provide formative assessments between assignments. Tutor led group communicative tasks on Moodle will further support independent learning. The module also includes the reading of more complex texts, the completion of a range of grammar and translation exercises based on the grammatical content of the module and the writing of short prose pieces on topics relevant to the home and the workplace.

ASSESSMENT

3 written linguistic assignments equivalent to 1,800 words (60%)
15 minute oral discussion of a seen article (40%)

Example assignments:

Compose a press release to launch a local campaign.

Discussion of an article in Golwg made available 30 minutes prior to the oral.

AIM(S)

- To enhance students' communicative skills and understanding and application of Welsh grammar through an intense period of concentrated study.
- To foster an understanding and appreciation of contemporary Welsh culture.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- demonstrate enhanced productive and receptive language skills in order to meet the needs of different situations including more formal individual presentations;
- apply the grammatical and stylistic knowledge they have learnt in a range of communicative and written tasks commensurate with the level;
- demonstrate through their communicative skills, an informed awareness of contemporary Welsh culture.

CONTENT

- This module enables students to consolidate and deepen their knowledge and understanding of the Welsh language through a five day period of concentrated residential study. Emphasis is placed on spoken Welsh with the practical sessions focusing on a mixture of structured individual, pair and team activities to nurture and sustain oral confidence over extended periods. These practical sessions also aim to consolidate writing, reading and listening skills appropriate to the level, through the use of video clips and aural material, building upon preparatory work undertaken prior to attendance at the residential. Authentic written texts on themes which develop understanding of contemporary Welsh culture are also used. Command of grammar, stylistics and vocabulary is strengthened through both the practical residential and field trips which further expose students to cultural aspects of Welsh life. Summative written assessments based on these experiences are completed following the residential element of the module.

ASSESSMENT

AIM(S)

- To enable students to consolidate and strengthen their understanding of Welsh grammar.
- To promote an understanding of variation in register and style enabling students to write effectively for different purposes.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- recognise and rectify common place grammatical errors;
- demonstrate a detailed understanding of key aspects of Welsh grammar and the ability to apply this knowledge through a range of translation tasks;
- display an appreciation of different written registers and styles and the ability to use these with increasing awareness and confidence in a selection of prose pieces.

CONTENT

- In this intermediate level module students have the opportunity to consolidate their knowledge of major grammatical constructions, through a range of written tasks. The module is divided into three sections, the first section discusses common linguistic errors and interactive exercises in Moodle are used to help students recognise and rectify such errors, together with a short summative assignment. The second part of the module moves on to graded translation pieces focusing on consolidating different grammatical points and introducing different registers. This is assessed by the submission of a second written assignment. The final section of the module looks at styles and registers in greater detail through printed matter and video/audio clips. Extended writing tasks (letters, speeches, soliloquies etc) enable students to display their understanding of such styles together with their knowledge of Welsh grammar. Group participation is encouraged through a grammar forum on Moodle.

ASSESSMENT

Three written assignments equivalent to 3,000 words consisting of a range of linguistic tasks.

Assignment 1 - (20%)

Assignment 2 - (30%)

Assignment 3 - (50%)

Example assignment

Compose a 600 word letter protesting against the closure of your local swimming pool.

POLICIES

University Attendance Policy

All students are required to attend all scheduled classes and tutorials and Faculties will record individual academic attendance on a weekly basis.

Contact points will be specified for each programme, taking into account the structure of the programme and the scheduled timetable. Disciplinary action will be taken for any sustained periods of unauthorised absence. Students who have a legitimate reason for unexpected absences (including the instance of illness or injury) must provide evidence to their Tutor immediately following their return, to ensure that it is noted as authorised leave.

Wherever possible, students should request permission through their Tutors in advance of any absence, completing the appropriate Registry Forms to explain the circumstances that require this. Although short authorised absences are not normally counted against the student, these are taken into consideration in the annual review of each student's cumulative attendance (see below). Confirmation of authorised absence will be lodged on the student record in the Registry.

If a student does not provide any reasonable justification for periods of unauthorised absence, fails to respond to initial and final Attendance Warning Letters and/or the required actions agreed at meetings with academic staff, and does not improve their attendance record, the Faculty will ask the Registry to withdraw the student within two months of the last recorded date of attendance.

In addition, each student's cumulative attendance will be reviewed at the end of the academic year. Any student with a cumulative attendance for the academic year below 70% (including authorised leave periods) will be sent an end of year warning letter by the Faculty to warn her/him that attendance is below the level expected by the University and that, if poor attendance continues, this may lead to the individual being withdrawn from the programme.

International Students with a UKVI Tier 4 Visa

In addition to the attendance requirements noted above, the following regulations will apply to international students who require a 'Tier 4' visa for their studies in the UK.

Students must request permission from their Tutor, prior to their departure, for authorisation to travel away from their campus during term-time. They must also inform their Tutor and/or Faculty Office of the date on which they plan to leave the University at the end of each academic year, once all teaching and examination requirements have been completed.

If travelling within or outside of the UK (during term-time or vacation periods), students should provide contact details and/or a travel itinerary to the Faculty Office to assure immediate contact in the case of an emergency.

It is a requirement of UK Visas & Immigration (UKVI) and a condition of all Tier 4 visas that missing 10 consecutive contact points without any form of authorisation will result in the student being reported to Registry. Registry will then withdraw the student from their programme and inform the UKVI that his/her Tier 4 visa sponsorship is withdrawn.

All international students holding a Tier 4 visa are also required to attend two compulsory University re-registration events in each academic year. These are usually held in January and May and students will receive a notification of the timing and location of each event. If an international student fails to attend a re-registration event the student will be reported to Registry. Registry will then withdraw that student from their programme and inform the UKVI that their Tier 4 visa sponsorship is withdrawn.

Students who have a legitimate reason for absence (including the instance of illness or injury while in the UK preventing attendance) must provide evidence to their Tutor immediately following their return, to ensure that it is noted as authorised leave. Although short authorised absences are not normally counted against the student, these are taken into consideration in the annual review of each student's cumulative attendance (see below). The confirmation of authorised absence will be lodged on the student record in the Registry.

Each international student's cumulative attendance will be reviewed at the end of the academic year. Any student with a cumulative attendance for the academic year below 70% (including authorised leave periods) will be sent an end of year warning letter by the Faculty to warn him/her that attendance is below the level expected by the University and that, if poor attendance continues this may lead to the individual being withdrawn from the programme and to the withdrawal of his/her Tier 4 visa.

Any international student with a Tier 4 visa whose cumulative attendance falls below 50% for the academic year (including authorised leave periods) will be withdrawn from the programme and the Registry will inform the UKVI that his/her Tier 4 visa sponsorship is withdrawn.

Whilst in the case of this online course, the attendance policy regarding lectures may appear irrelevant, it is of key importance that students inform staff if they are unable to submit the various exercises at key stages, as set by the individual module tutors, so that an application can be made to the Extenuating Circumstances Panel. Module tutors cannot provide extensions. All units of assessment in a module must be attempted or a result of Fail will be awarded for that particular module. The attendance policy regarding lectures does of course apply to the residential module as do the statements regarding external visits.

School Attendance Policy

Ysgol y Gymraeg ac Astudiaethau Dwyieithrwydd School of Welsh and Bilingual Studies

Attendance Policy

Attendance and punctuality are aspects which effect a student's success on a module and therefore, although attendance at lectures is not generally compulsory, staff in the School strongly urge students to attend them. As a result, attendance is monitored and staff will complete registers at the start of every lecture. If a student is absent for three consecutive lectures or has erratic attendance, s/he will be formally contacted by letter and will be invited for interview with the Programme Coordinator or Head of School. This is done in order to ascertain whether or not the student has difficulties with which the School could assist.

If students know beforehand that they will not be attending a session on a particular day, they must inform the lecturer in advance, noting the reason for their absence. It is not sufficient to ask a friend to excuse them on their behalf, efforts must be made to contact the lecturer directly. It is also a requirement that students ensure that any work or tasks missed are completed by the time of the next lecture.

External Visits

The School of Welsh and Bilingual Studies arranges occasional visits to places of historical/cultural significance, usually related to specific modules. These are an important and enriching part of the student experience. The School subsidises most of these visits only charging a nominal fee. Students will sometimes be asked to give a small deposit to ensure that they are guaranteed a place on the bus and to enable the School to make appropriate arrangements. Students who do not then take up their place, will forfeit the deposit. Non attendance on a trip will be considered as an absence.

Placements

Some of the postgraduate modules delivered by the School of Welsh and Bilingual Studies include a placement activity. For successful completion of these modules, the placement must be undertaken. This means that students studying these modules will have their placement attendance recorded. If a student is absent from their placement without authorisation, or has erratic attendance, s/he will be formally contacted by letter and will be invited for interview with the Programme Coordinator /Head of School.

If students know beforehand, that they will not be attending a placement on a particular day, they are asked to inform the module tutor with the reasons for their absence. They should also inform their placement contact directly.

Attendance records are used to inform student references at all levels.

Revised January 2012

ABOUT UNFAIR PRACTICE AND PLAGIARISM

The University defines unfair practice as ‘any act, intentional or otherwise, whereby a person may obtain for himself/herself or for another, an unpermitted advantage...’. Committing unfair practice in assessment is one of the most serious offences in academic life, and its consequences can be severe. It undermines the integrity of scholarship, research, and of the examination and assessment process.

It is very important to understand that it is no defence to claim that unfair practice has been committed unintentionally, accidentally, due to extenuating circumstances or a long-term impairment (irrespective of whether or not these circumstances or long-term impairment have been acknowledged by the University).

Plagiarism is one type of unfair practice. Plagiarism is passing off, or attempting to pass off, another’s work as your own. It includes copying the words, ideas, images or research results of another without acknowledgement, whether those words etc. are published or unpublished. It is plagiarism, for example, to copy the work of another student, of a member of staff or a published article without crediting the author. Persons who allow their work to be plagiarised are also guilty.

It should be noted that re-submitting work that has already been submitted for a different assessment task without noting that this is the case is also regarded as plagiarism (and is called self-plagiarism) and will be treated as such.

Plagiarism is one of the worst offences in academic life, and its consequences can be severe. It undermines the integrity of scholarship, research, and of the examination and assessment process. The guidance that follows explains what is meant by plagiarism, describes the University’s regulations for dealing with it, and provides help in avoiding it.

When registering as a student at the University of Wales Trinity Saint David you have consented to your work being scrutinised both electronically and in person to check for cases of plagiarism. In many Schools your work will be submitted electronically via Moodle.

For submissions outside of the Moodle platform, it is equally important that you reference your sources accurately. In some cases you will be expected to submit both hard and electronic copies, which can be checked against the database of the UK Higher Education Plagiarism Detection Service. For handwritten, portfolio and process workbook submissions check with your module tutor if you are in any doubt about whether you have infringed the regulations. They are here to assist you; ensure that you take advantage of their expertise.

Plagiarism: Regulations, Procedure and Penalties

Full details of the University’s procedures and penalties for dealing with issues of plagiarism can be found in Chapter 13 of the Academic Quality Handbook, which can be seen on the University website or obtained from the Faculty Offices. These details are also summarised in the University Regulations – Undergraduate Student Guide which is published on the Academic Office section on the University’s website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/university-regulations-student-guide/>

Avoiding Plagiarism

Coursework, dissertations, or creative work are meant to be your own original work. Obviously you will use the work of others. Not only is this inevitable, it is expected.

All scholarship builds on the work of others. The important thing to remember is always to acknowledge your sources. Your School will provide sessions on referencing and plagiarism but as a general rule of thumb observe the following guidelines:

- Anything that is copied or quoted from another source, including electronic sources such as the internet, must be in quotation marks and attributed to the original author. This may be in the body of the text or as a footnote. Full details of a source should be contained in a bibliography. Whatever method is used, always acknowledge your source and give full details of it (i.e. author, date, page number).
- Synthesising the work of others involves putting their ideas into your words. This is fine, but again, acknowledge your source. This can be done in a number of ways depending on the context. For example: 'Hart (2003, 52) maintains that...' 'Hart (2003, 52) provides evidence for...': 'It is argued, or submitted by Hart (2003, 52) that...' Then give the source of the original work.
- Where you are generally indebted for your ideas to one or two main sources, this can be a bit trickier. If the ideas or the way they are presented come from one or two sources, make this clear. Do the same if they come from lectures. It is important not to claim originality where it does not exist but to indicate in general where the information comes from.
- Full citations in timed unseen examinations are obviously not expected, but you should indicate general indebtedness and always credit any quotations you have managed to remember.

The golden rule is; 'if in doubt, provide references'. Consult your tutors if you have any problems, in particular with the method of citing books and articles, which may differ from subject to subject. There are no penalties for asking for advice and guidance; there are severe penalties for plagiarism and failure to reference means your work could be considered to be plagiarised.

Other types of Unfair Practice

There are other types of unfair practice, including, but not limited to producing work as a group where it is an individual task (called collusion), fabricating data or making false claims to have carried out research, using the service of an essay bank/essay mill, having an unauthorised source of information in an examination, prohibited communication during an examination. The same regulations, procedures and penalties apply to all types of unfair practice.

In the case of this certificate in Practical Welsh it is acceptable to use dictionaries when translating individual words in assignments, but the use of translation technology, such as Google Translate is not permissible and is considered a form of Unfair Practice.

STUDENT SERVICES

A professional support service providing high quality information, advice, guidance, practical and emotional support to enable all students to reach their full potential. Support available includes the Careers Service, Financial Support, Learning Support, Counselling Service and support for students from a care background. For further details see <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/student-services/>.

STUDY SKILLS

All students have access to study skills support to assist them in their studies. Details of provision are available from the Student Services offices on each campus and at <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/study-skills/>.

Topics covered include:

- Developing effective study strategies
- Planning and writing assignments
- Preparing presentations
- Planning for seminars
- Preparing for exams

Drop-in study skills sessions and 1:1 appointments are available on the Carmarthen, Lampeter and Swansea campuses during term time – no appointment necessary. Distance learning students are also able to access the Study Skills Distance service using e-mail, telephone or Skype. Please see the Student Services study skills webpages for further details: <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/study-skills/>.

GRADUATE SKILLS FOR EMPLOYMENT

Students are encouraged to use the Careers Service from the first year so that they can begin to plan their professional development in preparation for future employment.

Time at University should be seen as preparing for the world of work, which is increasingly a world that lays a premium on flexibility and ability to adapt to changing situations. Within this context Personal Transferable Skills (PTS) and Professional Development Planning (PDP) have come to feature very prominently as important graduate attributes. PTS are skills acquired in the course of academic study which might be independent of the discipline in question and, therefore, transferable and usable in other contexts, including the world of work. PDP is the planning process through which one is able to reflect upon and analyse, personal strengths and identify areas for future development. Four main categories of such skills have been identified: problem solving, managing/organising, team work and communication. Each Programme of Study has been designed to include opportunities to acquire and develop personal skills and plan professional development in readiness for graduation.

Examples are as follows:

Problem Solving

A great deal of work in this School could involve problem solving and require students to:

- define and identify the core of a problem
- investigate what resources are available to solve it
- enquire of, and research into, the available resources
- assess the relevance of data/information
- analyse data/information
- evaluate data/information
- display independent judgement of data/information
- relate data/information to a wider context
- data appreciation: draw conclusions from complex arrays of data
- organise and synthesise complex and disparate data
- apply knowledge and theories

- consider alternative strategies
- show flexibility/versatility in approach
- use observational/perceptive skills
- show resourcefulness

Managing/Organising

This relates to time- and work-management which is the ability to:

- identify which items need to be done and the time scales involved
- evaluate each item
- formulate objectives, bearing in mind those evaluations
- plan work to achieve objectives/targets
- carry out work required
- cope and deal with change, i.e. new items
- withstand and deal with pressures
- ensure appropriate resources are available
- organise resources available
- show initiative
- demonstrate sustained effort
- make quick, appropriate decisions
- show personal motivation
- execute agreed plans

Team Work

Tutorials and seminars, and other methods of learning or assessment, give scope to show a capacity to:

- listen to others
- be aware of one's own performance
- observe others' performance, and use perceptions gained
- show assertiveness (set own agenda)
- co-operate with others
- constructively criticise
- produce new ideas or proposals
- clarify, test or probe others' ideas or proposals
- elaborate on own/others' ideas or proposals
- summarise: bring ideas together

Communication

This aspect of academic work is central. It places emphasis on such qualities as the ability to:

- explain clearly
- deal effectively with conflicting points of view
- develop a logical argument
- present data clearly and effectively
- take account of audience/reader in speech/writing
- show evidence of having marshalled facts
- give appropriate examples
- show enthusiasm and interest
- show critical reasoning
- use appropriate presentation techniques
- compare and contrast effectively
- listen and query where necessary
- discuss ideas, taking alternatives into account

EXTERNAL EXAMINER

All taught Programmes of Study which lead to a Higher Education award of the University or the University of Wales have at least one External Examiner. The principal purposes of the University's external examiner system are to ensure that:

- the standard of each award is maintained at the appropriate level;
- the standards of student performance are comparable with standards on similar programmes or subjects in other UK institutions with which they are familiar;
- the processes for assessment and the determination of awards are sound and fairly conducted.

Students may request a copy of the previous year's External Examiner's Report for their programme of study by contacting the Programme Director.

The current External Examiner for this Programme of Study is:

Name: Miss Eleri Hughes

Institution: Bangor University

Please note that students are not permitted to make direct contact with the External Examiner.

COMPLAINTS

You have a right to make a complaint about any specific concern about the provision of your Programme of Study or a related academic service. Full details of the complaints process can be found in the 'Procedure for Student Complaints' in Chapter 13 of the Academic Quality Handbook and in supporting documentation published on the Academic Office section on the University's website:
