INTRODUCTION

This handbook provides you with detailed information about your course, or Programme of Study, in the academic year 2017-2018. Module descriptors are presented in the accompanying Module Directory document.

The University has made every effort to make the information as full and as accurate as possible, but you should note that minor changes in the organisation of modules between the planning stage and the actual teaching are inevitable. We shall try to keep any such changes to a minimum, and you will receive plenty of advance warning in the event of any alteration. We would also be grateful if you would let us know about any changes that you think might be helpful if introduced into future handbooks.

FEEDBACK

Feedback on your programme of study and modules is welcome and important and will help us to improve and enhance your learning experience. You can give feedback in a number of ways: through the student representative for your programme of study, through module evaluation questionnaires, through informal meetings with your personal tutor, teaching staff, or Head of School, through focus groups set up by Schools to gain feedback from students on particular issues, or through the Students' Union. If there are issues, then it is important that you share these with us so that we can address them. Your opinion is valued.

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

Welcome to Yr Athrofa: Institute of Education, University of Wales Trinity Saint David and the South West Wales Centre for Teacher Education (SWWCTE). We congratulate you on attaining your place and look forward to seeing you develop as a learner and succeed in becoming a teacher. The journey will be demanding and at times challenging but we believe that pupils in every classroom deserve the very best teachers and our aim is to support you in becoming a successful part of the teaching profession.

Good teachers value learning and the programme will help you develop the skills needed to reflect, question and refine your practice so that you can motivate and inspire learning in young people. This will take hard work, commitment and enthusiasm and you will need a sense of determination to keep going through the 'ups and downs' of life in school.

Yr Athrofa delivers its programmes of Initial Teacher Education (ITE) in partnership with a wide range of schools where mentors and senior mentors will support your development. It is in school that you will evidence the knowledge and skills needed to meet the standards required for the award of Qualified Teacher Status. Becoming a teacher is an exciting and rewarding journey and is one that requires your commitment and engagement in all aspects of the programme. You can then go forward to play an important role in the education of young people and the teaching profession.

INFORMATION ABOUT YOU AND YOUR PROGRAMME OF STUDY

Information about you and your programme of study is held by the University on a central Student Record System managed by the University Registry. It is essential that the University Registry has an accurate record of your personal details at all times. It is equally important to ensure that you are enrolled on the correct Programme of Study and on the correct modules. Failure to register properly or to inform the Registry of any changes to your personal details is likely to cause some or all of the following problems:

- failure to keep you generally informed;
- not being able to borrow materials from the Library and Learning Resources;
- not being able to use the Information Technology services;
- failure to contact you in an emergency;
- delay in progressing from Part I to Part II, where applicable;
- delay in graduation as a result of not completing sufficient credits at the correct level;
- general inefficiencies in administrative processes resulting in delays for other students.

Please take time to check the enrolment information provided by the University Registry and be sure to notify the Registry of any errors or changes.

DISCLOSURE AND BARRING SERVICE (DBS) – ENHANCED

As your programme involves you coming into contact with children or vulnerable adults, you will be required to undertake a DBS check (Enhanced). Further details will be provided by the University Registry or Head of School.

As part of each programme's procedures relating to DBS, continuing students will normally be required to inform their Programme Director immediately of any change to their criminal convictions status.

You will also be asked to complete a formal self declaration during the enrolment period at the beginning of the academic year, which confirms your criminal conviction status. This declaration will be kept within Registry.

MODULAR TERMINOLOGY

Programme of Study (Course)

A Programme of Study or course is the collection of modules leading to a particular award.

Module

A module is an academically coherent unit of learning activity with defined aims/learning outcomes, content and assessment scheme.

Module Credit Rating

Every module has a credit rating. Credit is an award made to a learner in recognition of the verified achievement of designated learning outcomes at a specified level.

Level of Study

A level is assigned to each module to define the standard of its academic demand. The basic characteristics of study at Master's level, which is called Level 7 in the National Qualifications Framework. The basic characteristics of the relevant levels of study are outlined in section 6.1.5 of Chapter 6 of the University's Academic Quality Handbook, a copy of which is available on the Academic Office section of the website: <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/academic-quality-handbook/>

Students should note that the expectations and demands of work at Level 7 is higher than those at undergraduate Levels 4-6, and that this will be reflected in the assessment and marking of the module assessments.

ASSESSMENT

At the start of each module, tutors will provide on Moodle full details of the means by which you will be assessed in that module. This will include a full assessment brief and guidelines on the criteria that will be used for marking your work as well as clear information about when the assessments are due and the turn-around feedback time for the assessments. It will also detail how you will be able to discuss the feedback on your work and your performance and what to do if you have any questions.

All assessed written coursework needs to be submitted in electronic copy via Turnitin; alternative instructions will be provided by the Programme Director for any forms of coursework that cannot be submitted via Turnitin.

The University offers programmes in both English and Welsh. The normal expectation is that you will be assessed in the same language in which the programme or modules are delivered. If you have been taught in English and wish to be assessed in Welsh, or vice versa, you should consult your Programme Director about the options available to you.

You will receive confirmation of your assessment marks at the end of each year. Any marks released prior to formal approval by the Progression / Award Examining Board are provisional.

Extenuating Circumstances

If you believe that there are extenuating circumstances which may have adversely affected your ability to complete coursework or examinations, you should follow the University's procedures for Extenuating Circumstances for Taught Provision, which can be found on the Academic Office section on the University's website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/procedures-for-academic-appeals-complaints-and-other-student-cases/>

Additional needs in terms of assessment

If you have any additional needs in terms of assessment, it is your responsibility to liaise with Student Services regarding those needs at the start of the academic year, so that a Statement of Compensatory Measures can be drafted in line with the University's procedures for assessment of students with additional needs.

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/services-for-disabled-students/>

Note that the period between the end of the summer examinations and the end of the summer term is an independent study period, which should be used to prepare for your next year of study. Further details will be provided by your Programme Director.

Academic Appeals

Information about how to appeal is provided in the 'Academic Appeal Procedure' in Chapter 13 of the Academic Quality Handbook, and in supporting documentation published on the Academic Office section on the University's website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/procedures-for-academic-appeals-complaints-and-other-student-cases/>

Additional advice is available from the Students' Union. It is very important that you note carefully the grounds on which appeals may be made and submit your appeal on the appropriate form because incomplete or ineligible appeals cannot be processed.

Assessment Regulations

The rules and regulations that govern the assessment of your Programme of Study are available in Chapters 6 and 7 of the University's Academic Quality Handbook, a copy of which is available on the Academic Office section of the website:

<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/academic-quality-handbook/>

Responsibilities of students in relation to the assessment process

As noted in section 7.3(5) of Chapter 7 of the Academic Quality Handbook, students are responsible for ensuring that:

- i) They read and understand the information provided about how they will be assessed, how their final award will be determined, and the action to take in the event that they experience difficulties relating to assessment.
- ii) They attempt every assessment component of a module.
- iii) They attend examinations and other assessment events, including re-examination and re-assessment events, as required; and that they are available to attend oral examinations if required to do so within the published dates of terms or semesters, or other date notified to them in advance.
- iv) They submit work for assessment as required and in accordance with the required format and deadline.
- v) They inform their School or Student Services of any disability or long term impairment which might require special provisions for assessment.
- vi) They familiarise themselves with the University's definition of unfair practice and undertake assessments in a manner that does not attempt to gain unfair advantage.
- vii) They follow the prescribed procedures in the event that they experience extenuating circumstances or wish to appeal against the decision of an Examining Board.

- viii) They keep a copy of work presented for assessment wherever feasible.
- ix) They make their work available for sampling for external examining purposes and for archiving.

VIRTUAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENT (VLE)

Moodle is the University's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). The VLE is used to support learning and teaching. It can be accessed by enrolled students from anywhere in the world using the internet and a web browser.

Some of Moodle's features allow students to:

PROGRAMMES OF STUDY

The Secondary PGCE Programme is structured to mirror the needs and stages of the development of beginning teachers. It focuses on the Standards required to achieve Qualified Teacher Status (set out in Welsh Assembly Government Circular 017/2009 - see Appendix 1) and on the underpinning theory that informs an understanding of teaching and learning in schools/colleges.

The PGCE programme aims to:

- develop students' subject knowledge, skills in planning and reflection alongside a comprehensive repertoire of teaching and learning strategies for secondary teaching;
- develop students' critical awareness of how learning theories inform understanding of adolescence, child development and pedagogy;
- provide students with appropriate teaching experiences to their subject specialism in schools/colleges;
- develop students' professional values and their appreciation of working with others in professional contexts;
- promote the professional development of beginning teachers within a context of critical reflective enquiry based on experience and issues arising from work in schools/colleges and through reading, writing, open dialogue, research and critical reflection to develop their classroom practice;
- develop students' critical thinking skills, teamwork and capacity for independent research and critical reflection;
- develop students' understanding of schools, colleges and other education providers and their place in the community;
- develop students' employability skills including the uses of ICT, problem solving, critical analysis and reflection, communications and literacy/numeracy skills (English and Welsh); and
- enable students to demonstrate achievement of QTS standards.

The Welsh Medium S_PGCE pathway has the following aims in addition to those above:

- to prepare students for the particular needs of working within Welsh-medium school contexts and the wider community; and
- to introduce students to specific Welsh-medium resources.

As a result, on successful completion of the PGCE all students will be able to:

- create effective conditions for learning
- teach effectively and secure effective learning and progress
- assess and record accurately learners' progress and attainment
- evaluate their own teaching and suggest ways forward for improvement.

Programme Learning Outcomes

Bearing all of the broad aims of the programme in mind, the following Programme Learning Objectives (PLOs), are broad statements of the intentions and expectations of the course. These address your knowledge and understanding of learning and teaching; your cognitive skills in evaluating and reflecting upon theory and practice; your practical skills in teaching, working independently and as part of a team; and your wider skills. These PLOs should be demonstrated in both university and school-based practice

Secondary Post-Graduate Certificate Learning Outcomes

The Post-Graduate Certificate in Education programme should enable students to:

- demonstrate a critically considered understanding of social and psychological learning theories and their application to support pupils' learning and behaviour in the secondary phase
- demonstrate a systematic and comprehensive understanding of factors that shape the provision of effective secondary learning environments
- systematically investigate and contest the nature of their specialist subject and its pedagogy in the secondary phase in order to inform planning, learning and teaching
- critically consider and evaluate research evidence, including making sound judgments of complex data, to support pedagogic decisions
- critically reflect upon, discuss and employ inclusive pedagogical approaches
- understand the nature of education research and be able to evaluate and employ associated, small-scale research methodologies
- show originality and critical rigour in the application of education research skills to a small scale research enquiry
- organise their knowledge and learning through the use of a range of information sources and present their work appropriately

Secondary Professional Graduate Certificate Programme Learning Outcomes

The Professional Graduate Certificate in Education programme should enable students to:

- understand and apply social and psychological learning theories in order to support pupils' learning and behaviour in the secondary phase
- critically consider the factors that shape the provision of effective secondary learning environments
- investigate and evaluate the nature of their specialist subject and its pedagogy in the secondary phase in order to inform planning, learning and teaching
- critically reflect upon, discuss and employ inclusive pedagogical approaches
- undertake small-scale independent enquiry related to the module requirements and consider the implications for practice
- demonstrate the ability to select, consider and evaluate research evidence to support pedagogic decisions
- organise their knowledge and learning through the use of a range of information sources and present their work appropriately

All modules are compulsory, core modules and must be passed in order to be achieve the award of PGCE and to be recommended for QTS.

The S_PGCE professional graduate certificate programme consists of four modules, all benchmarked at Level 6 (resulting in 120 level 6 credits in total).

The S_PGCE post-graduate award consists of 2 level 6 (constituting 60 credits in total), and two level 7 modules (60 level 7 credits in total). This is shown in the table below.

Module details are correct on 1 September 2017, and will not normally be changed during the year. In the unlikely event of the School having to make changes to these details during the year, you will be notified in writing. Module descriptors are presented in the accompanying Module Directory document.

Welsh Medium pathway

The students enrolled onto the Welsh Medium S_PGCE need to take least one placement in Welsh medium setting and submit the Investigating Contemporary Issues in Secondary Education (Ymchwilio i Faterion Cyfoes Addysg Uwchradd) through the medium of Welsh.

Students are entitled to take the two placements in a Welsh medium setting, where possible, and submit all assignments through the medium of Welsh.

Where possible bilingual provision is provided, with lead lectures available through both languages and, where appropriate, material and resources available in both languages.

UNIVERSITY ATTENDANCE POLICY

All students are required to attend all scheduled classes and tutorials and Faculties will record individual academic attendance on a weekly basis.

Contact points will be specified for each programme, taking into account the structure of the programme and the scheduled timetable. Disciplinary action will be taken for any sustained periods of unauthorised absence. Students who have a legitimate reason for unexpected absences (including the instance of illness or injury) must provide evidence to their Tutor, London Student Services or Faculty Office, as appropriate, immediately following their return, to ensure that it is noted as authorised leave.

Wherever possible, students should request permission through their Tutors, London Student Services or Faculty Office in advance of any absence, completing the appropriate forms to explain the circumstances that require this. Although short authorised absences are not normally counted against the student, these are taken into consideration in the annual review of each student's cumulative attendance (see below). Confirmation of authorised absence will be lodged on each student's record.

If a student does not provide any reasonable justification for periods of unauthorised absence, fails to respond to initial and/or final Attendance Warning Letters, and/or the required actions agreed at meetings with academic staff, and does not improve their attendance record, the Faculty will ask the Registry to withdraw the student.

International Students with a UKVI Tier 4 Visa

In addition to the attendance requirements noted above, the following regulations will apply to international students who require a 'Tier 4' visa for their studies in the UK.

Each student's cumulative attendance (%) will be reviewed during and at the end of each academic Term. The required level of attendance will be defined by the Faculty/campus taking into account the level of study, structure of the programme, and scheduled timetable. Initial and Final Warning letters will be issued for low levels of attendance to advise her/him that attendance is below the level expected by the University and that, if poor attendance continues, this may lead to the individual being withdrawn from the programme. Very low levels of attendance for an academic Term will lead to immediate withdrawal.

Appeal against withdrawal due to poor attendance – Information on how to appeal against withdrawal is provided on the University's website (<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/procedures-for-academic-appeals-complaints-and-other-student-cases/>).

It is very important that you note carefully the grounds on which appeals may be made and submit your appeal on the appropriate form because incomplete or ineligible appeals cannot be processed (<http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/other-forms-and-policies/>).

If travelling within or outside of the UK during term-time or vacation periods, students should provide contact details and/or a travel itinerary to the Faculty Office or London Student Services to assure immediate contact in the case of an emergency.

Students must always request permission from the University prior to their departure, for authorisation to travel away from their campus during term-time. They must also inform their Tutor, London Student Services or Faculty Office of the date on which they plan to leave the University at the end of each Term, once all teaching and examination requirements have been completed.

It is a requirement of UK Visas & Immigration (UKVI) and a condition of all Tier 4 visas that missing 10 consecutive contact points without any form of authorisation will result in the student being reported to Registry. Registry will then withdraw the student from their programme and inform the UKVI that their Tier 4 visa sponsorship is withdrawn.

All international students holding a Tier 4 visa are also required to attend one (for the London campus) or three (for the Wales-based campuses) compulsory, University re-registration events in each academic year. Students will receive a notification of the timing and location of each event. If an international student fails to attend a re-registration event the student will be reported to Registry. Registry will then withdraw that student from their programme and inform the UKVI that their Tier 4 visa sponsorship is withdrawn.

Students who have a legitimate reason for absence (including the instance of illness or injury while in the UK preventing attendance) must provide evidence to their Tutor, London Student Services or Faculty Office immediately following their return, to request that it be noted as authorised leave. If approved, the confirmation of authorised absence will be lodged on the student's record.

SCHOOL AND FACULTY POLICIES

Your School or Faculty have additional policies in a range of areas. Your Programme Director will provide you with relevant details.

ABOUT UNFAIR PRACTICE AND PLAGIARISM

The University defines unfair practice as 'any act, intentional or otherwise, whereby a person may obtain for himself/herself or for another, an unpermitted advantage...'. Committing unfair practice in assessment is one of the most serious offences in academic life, and its consequences can be severe. It undermines the integrity of scholarship, research, and of the examination and assessment process.

It is very important to understand that it is no defence to claim that unfair practice has been committed unintentionally, accidentally, due to extenuating circumstances or a long-term impairment (irrespective of whether or not these circumstances or long-term impairment have been acknowledged by the University).

Plagiarism is one type of unfair practice. Plagiarism is passing off, or attempting to pass off, another's work as your own. It includes copying the words, ideas, images or research results of another without acknowledgement, whether those words etc. are published or unpublished. It is plagiarism, for example, to copy the work of another student, of a member of staff or a published article without crediting the author. Persons who allow their work to be plagiarised are also guilty.

It should be noted that re-submitting work that has already been submitted for a different assessment task without noting that this is the case is also regarded as plagiarism (and is called self-plagiarism) and will be treated as such.

Plagiarism is one of the worst offences in academic life, and its consequences can be severe. It undermines the integrity of scholarship, research, and of the examination and assessment process. The guidance that follows explains what is meant by plagiarism, describes the University's regulations for dealing with it, and provides help in avoiding it.

When enrolling as a student at the University of Wales Trinity Saint David you have consented to your work being scrutinised both electronically and in person to check for cases of plagiarism. In many Schools your work will be submitted electronically via Moodle.

For submissions outside of the Moodle platform, it is equally important that you reference your sources accurately. In some cases you will be expected to submit both hard and electronic copies, which can be checked against the database of the UK Higher Education Plagiarism Detection Service. For handwritten, portfolio and process workbook submissions check with your module tutor if you are in any doubt about whether you have infringed the regulations. They are here to assist you; ensure that you take advantage of their expertise.

Plagiarism: Regulations, Procedure and Penalties

Full details of the University's procedures and penalties for dealing with issues of plagiarism can be found in Chapter 13 of the Academic Quality Handbook, which can be seen on the University website or obtained from the Faculty Offices. These details are also summarised in the University Regulations – Postgraduate Student Guide which is published on the Academic Office section on the University's website: <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/academic-office/university-regulations-student-guide/>

Avoiding Plagiarism

Coursework, dissertations, or creative work are meant to be your own original work. Obviously you will use the work of others. Not only is this inevitable, it is expected.

All scholarship builds on the work of others. The important thing to remember is always to acknowledge your sources. Your School will provide sessions on referencing and plagiarism but as a general rule of thumb observe the following guidelines:

- Anything that is copied or quoted from another source, including electronic sources such as the internet, must be in quotation marks and attributed to the original author. This may be in the body of the text or as a footnote. Full details of a source should be contained in a bibliography. Whatever method is used, always acknowledge your source and give full details of it (i.e. author, date, page number).
- Synthesising the work of others involves putting their ideas into your words. This is fine, but again, acknowledge your source. This can be done in a number of ways depending on the context. For example: 'Hart (2003, 52) maintains that...' 'Hart (2003, 52) provides evidence for...': 'It is argued, or submitted by Hart (2003, 52) that...' Then give the source of the original work.
- Where you are generally indebted for your ideas to one or two main sources, this can be a bit trickier. If the ideas or the way they are presented come from one or two sources, make this clear. Do the same if they come from lectures. It is important not to claim originality where it does not exist but to indicate in general where the information comes from.
- Full citations in timed unseen examinations are obviously not expected, but you should indicate general indebtedness and always credit any quotations you have managed to remember.

The golden rule is; 'if in doubt, provide references'. Consult your tutors if you have any problems, in particular with the method of citing books and articles, which may differ from subject to subject. There are no penalties for asking for advice and guidance; there are severe penalties for plagiarism and failure to reference means your work could be considered to be plagiarised.

Other types of Unfair Practice

There are other types of unfair practice, including, but not limited to producing work as a group where it is an individual task (called collusion), fabricating data or making false claims to have carried out research, using the service of an essay bank/essay mill, having an unauthorised source of information in an examination, prohibited communication during an examination. The same regulations, procedures and penalties apply to all types of unfair practice.

LIBRARY AND LEARNING RESOURCES

Library and Learning Resources (LLR) supports the learning, teaching and research activities of staff and students across the University with libraries at Carmarthen, Lampeter, London and Swansea and includes online resources, social learning spaces, special collections and archives. There are seven libraries across the Carmarthen, Lampeter, London and Swansea campuses.

The library provides different loan periods so that the changing needs of students can be accommodated and prioritises the purchase of e-books over print wherever possible. Loan periods are regularly reviewed by the library to ensure that they are appropriate and provide equitable access to resources. The LLR recently launched a Fairer Fines policy which means students are only fined on items if they are in heavy demand or requested by another library user.

The LLR provides a new Need More? service which aims to provide a one stop shop for all learning resource needs, for example, if a book, journal or thesis is needed which is not in the library stock then it may be purchased or borrowed from another library. Further information can be found here: <http://www.uwtsd.ac.uk/library/library-guide/need-more/>.

Users may access an extensive collection of online e-journals and e-books that are available 24/7 including scholarly journals, newspapers, company reports and reference material. The library catalogue searches the whole range of print and online library materials and gives access to your library account from anywhere.

Information and Digital Literacy Skills

All students take part in general induction tours of the Library in their first few weeks at the University. Academic Liaison Librarians will help students to develop the skills required to find, use and evaluate information sources within their subject areas. Numerous sessions are offered and organised to teach students how to use e-resources, journals/e-journals, e-books and useful websites as well as support for referencing, ethical use of information and accessing a wide range of information sources in accessible formats. The LLR operates an open door policy which enables students to ask for help and advice on the information resources available throughout the academic year. Academic Liaison Librarians are welcomed to Staff / Student Committees, School Board meetings and also attend other relevant Faculty meetings where invited, including Faculty Board. GRADUATE SKILLS FOR EMPLOYMENT

Students are encouraged to use the Careers Service from the first year so that they can begin to plan their professional development in preparation for future employment.

Time at University should be seen as preparing for the world of work, which is increasingly a world that lays a premium on flexibility and ability to adapt to changing situations. Within this context Personal Transferable Skills (PTS) and Professional Development Planning (PDP) have come to feature very prominently as important graduate attributes. PTS are skills acquired in the course of academic study which might be independent of the discipline in question and, therefore, transferable and usable in other contexts, including the world of work. PDP is the planning process through which one is able to reflect upon and analyse, personal strengths and identify areas for future development. Four main categories of such skills have been identified: problem solving, managing/organising, team work and communication. Each Programme of Study has been designed to include opportunities to acquire and develop personal skills and plan professional development in readiness for graduation. Further details are available from your Programme Director.

You have a right to make a complaint about any specific concern about the provision of your Programme of Study or a related academic service.
