As part of our module, we had to create a website here is the link for my website:

<https://adaviesimages.wixsite.com/mysite>

To create my website, I first looked at Photographers that I like and how they have their websites set like. Snice I photograph wildlife and nature; I looked at wildlife photographers, one of them being Simon Roy <https://www.simonroyphotography.co.uk/>. Simon Roy is an award-winning wildlife photographer from England, He photographs British wildlife, and he is represented by the RSPB images. I like the setup of Simon Roy website; I like how when you first open his website you are welcomed by one of his images, I knew that is how I wanted my home page to be is by having one of my images shown largely on the homepage.

Another photographer I looked at was Simon Buckley <https://simonbuckleyphotographer.com/> Simon Buckley is a street photographer based in England; He photographs the streets that he has walked down his whole life and occasionally he travels around the world taking images of the streets he walks down during his visits. Simon Buckley website has a good set up, the options are clear to see and choose from, he also opens his website with his images in a slideshow form. I really like Simon Buckley website and took some ideas on how I wanted my website to look like.

I looked at a thew photographers and their websites, so I could have some ideas on what I wanted my website to look like. The 2 photographers that I have mentioned already, their websites were welcoming and easy the navigate and I just really like them, so I knew what I wanted my website to be like with just by looking at other websites.

I used Wix as my website designer because I like the templates that Wix has to help design your own website, I chose a template called 'Photography' to help design my website. I started my homepage by choosing one of my images to be the background of my home page. I then chose which name I wanted to represent my Photography work which was 'A.D Photography.' The reason why I chose that name is because it is the first initial of my first and last name and fits my website best.

I then created my portfolio and added some projects that I created into it. I chose images that fitted the title I came up with for the projects well and ones that look perfect on my website. My main passion with photography is wildlife and nature (Landscapes & Seascapes) and that is what I mainly photograph, that is why my website and the projects I created are mainly based on wildlife and nature.

After creating my portfolio/projects, I then created my personal statement and added an image of myself so people will know who I am. I lastly created a contact page, the background image I used is one of my favourite images I have ever taken. I added my email and my Instagram photography account https://www.instagram.com/amber.d_photography/, so everyone can have more of a look on what I do with my photography and can contact me through my Instagram account.
