

Here is the link to the video, along side some of the website I used

Skiing -The main reason lifts close early in the day is safety. In the winter it gets darker earlier and much faster, so each resort needs to close the lifts before dusk sets in.

Simon Naylor April 23rd, 2020 <https://newtoski.com/why-ski-resorts-with-snow-close-early/>

Generally, when winds start blowing close to 40 mile per hour, resort management will seriously consider closing down lifts and gondolas.

GREAT NORTH AMERICAN SKI ADVENTURE 2022 <https://greatnorthamericanskiadventure.com/index.php/seven-deadly-sins/how-wind-impairs-skiing/>

Basi level 1 ski qual

https://www.basi.org.uk/BASINewWebsite/Courses/Alpine/Alpine_level_1/BASI/Site_mock_ups/Alpine/Alpine_level_1/Alpine_level_1.aspx?hkey=dcb19b78-8522-4364-ac16-33ebf39360a6

forty-five young people people on two separate Contiki tours participated in the activity of canyoning organised by the company Adventure World

Tiffany on July 6, 2019<https://tiffanyjohnson.com.au/the-swiss-canyoning-disaster/>

Late cheer 1995 they hiring unexpectedly employs

“It was obvious that it was raining and it was obvious that it had been raining up on the mountains for some time,”

Acting police commander Sefan Blaettler told the Neue Zuericher Zeitung that a warning system had been established after the Saxetenbach had caused flooding and devastation downstream in 1987, although it was not designed specifically to warn canyioners of water surges.

What is canyoning

Tiffany on July 6, 2019<https://tiffanyjohnson.com.au/the-swiss-canyoning-disaster/>

Swiss cheese

PSNet 2022 <https://psnet.ahrq.gov/taxonomy/term/3460>

'exploring the canyon and put bolts in and the safety lines'

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

500 people in one day.

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

They were so low on staff that Clarke and Erickson felt cornered into safety and due to then increase in numbers they had to get secondary guides.

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

kept pushing less experienced guides. The owners were getting greedy

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

At first, "all the guides had six or seven years of experience and the company had very high standards,"

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

Later on Clarkson leaves as well due to inexperienced guides and clients being unsafe he didn't want to be part of it,

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

"In the beginning, very experienced guides, guides with ten years' experience, teach novice guides. Once the novices have two or three years' experience—and if the older guides have been pushed out—they teach the novices. Pretty soon, with more client pressure, you have guides with only one or two years of experience teaching novices.

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

"With the experience those guides had, they couldn't have known what was going to happen," he went on. "It is the responsibility of the company to educate the guides about all the possibilities, and they did not do this."

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

The owners were getting greedy.

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/> the financial concerns overtaking the safety standards at Adventure World. But it wasn't only the money. There was a macho attitude in the company, an attitude that slowly turned into arrogance.

Mark Jenkins Nov 1, 1999 <https://www.outsideonline.com/outdoor-adventure/exploration-survival/storm-distance/>

The concept was put on hold, however, when tragedy struck again under the watch of Adventure World. Less than a year after the Saxeten tragedy, a tourist bungee jumping with Adventure World was killed when he was tethered to a rope that was too long.

Tara Giroud July 27, 2019 https://www.swissinfo.ch/eng/risk-sports_safety-still-a-question-20-years-after-interlaken-canyoning-accident/45105312

A judge has found six people guilty of negligent manslaughter in the deaths of 21 people in a 1999 Alpine flash flood.

The six -- employees and managers of a closed adventure company, were given suspended prison sentences.

CNN December 12, 2001 Posted: 8:29 AM EST (1329 GMT) <http://edition.cnn.com/2001/WORLD/europe/12/11/swiss.canyon.verdict/>