Use the persona template. Good choice of personas, but try to keep the goals and tasks linked to the app rather than being more general. How did you get 100 potential users to interview? - Good idea about proximity beacons and geofencing. Hub and spoke/nested doll approaches will work, but you should have discussed how you generated the content headings/subheadings and tasks with real items, not just explain the theory. Why was this tested in London, not Swansea? Needs to show control sequences. Needs more references that are relevant
