

MARKING CRITERIA and STUDENT FEEDBACK

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
1. Engagement with Literature Skills
As usual, a good research activity for this assessment, reference point have been used effectively across all elements of this submission	20	20
2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
You have a good grounding in writing scripts for Windows/Linux, but what has been submitted needs a little more complexity to show its importance and maybe its relevance/usefulness. The assessment brief does hint at script(s)	20	12
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
A good clear and precise overview of the functions of the OS and links to relevant research. Just for completeness, supporting images for this part of your report would have supported the discussion.	10	10
4. Practical Application Skills
Statting with the CLI elements, you have described the need of CLI and associated commands, but you have only demonstrated elements from Windows, discussion on Linux CLI is valid, but no examples of commands. With regards to the script for Windows/Linux - its fine and demonstrates some skill of writing a script and "could" work (no evidence of them running). As commented, the assessment brief does hint at script(s)	40	20
5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice
Report is well presented, easy to read/follow. Just be mindful of the assessment brief and its requirements - did you read it properly/clearly enough and/or ask questions in lectures	10	8
