WHAT IS A CEO? (CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER)

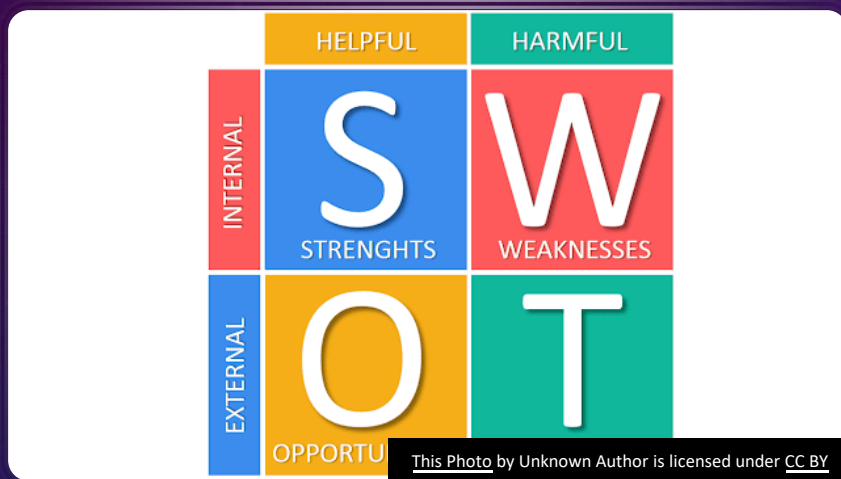

- The top executive in a corporation is known as the chief executive officer (CEO). The principal point of contact between the board of directors and corporate operations is the chief executive officer, who is also responsible for overseeing a company's overall operations and resources. The chief executive officer frequently serves as the company's public face.

WHAT'S THE ROLE OF A CEO IN A COMPANY

- Based on the organization's size, culture, and corporate structure, the CEO's role can change. CEOs of large organisations frequently only deal with the highest level strategic decisions and those that direct the entire company's growth. CEOs, for instance, might concentrate on culture, organisation, and strategy. They might focus on things like how money is distributed throughout the company or how to form effective teams.
- Smaller business CEOs are usually more involved and hands-on in day-to-day operations.

MY PERSONAL SWOT ANALYSIS

- Strengths that I have : Communication, Deep IT Knowledge, Business management and development understanding, Creating connections, Brainstorm
- Weaknesses : Afraid of starting something spontaneous, not being able to work in particular teams when my options are not accepted
- Opportunities : Currently holding a higher management position as Director of Operations to a very big and growing company, could lead me to develop myself even more and gain the confidentiality to jump at a higher position
- Threats : Young age and not so much experience, very few positions available as CEO, too many applicants with better knowledge and experience

HOW I'M GOING TO BECOME A CEO

- Main and one of the most important parts of becoming a CEO is leaning and developing new skills, by learning new skills, by developing my personality and my character in such a way that nothing will be able to stop my path to success.
- Working hard in a company that provides you a great possibility to learn new things and to develop yourself, is always a positive thing. Starting off as a simple junior accountant and getting up to a position of Director takes a lot of hard work, understanding and responsibilities

Any Questions

The background of the slide is a dark blue gradient. It features several decorative elements: a large circular scale with numbers from 0 to 210 in the top right corner, and several concentric circles with arrows indicating a clockwise direction in the bottom right corner. There are also some faint, larger circular outlines on the left side.
