

BA (Hons) Illustration Year 2 Summer brief

Changing perspectives

The last few months has been a strange period for everyone and has often led to changes in how you may view the World. Over the summer break we would like you to produce a series of black and white illustrations that documents this time of your life. You can also consider what spot colour you can use. Using the categories provided. You will create an 8-page 'zine' (7 illustrations and 1 cover) that will be further developed on the Risograph printer when you return in the new semester.

The categories are:

1. Yourself and how you have felt and coped.
2. Your home and time spent there.
3. The people you meet and see, or didn't see.
4. Things you have noticed about your local area.
5. A news event (local or global).
6. A dream.
7. Something of your choice.
8. Cover design and title

How you approach this is open to personal interpretation. Use the skills you have learned over your first year. Explore interesting composition and consider if there is a narrative that can run through the series of illustrations. Be imaginative, think laterally and don't be boring!

You can work in any medium and any size. However, the final 7 (plus 1 cover) illustrations need to be placed on A3 in this layout:

6	5	4	3
7	Cover	1	2

The deadline for the artwork is 10am on first day of term
