Student name:		Student ID number:
Programme:	BA Acting
Module:	Major Project (SEM 2)
Module code:	ADPA6011	Contribution to Overall Module Assessment (%):
Lecturer:	Seren Vickers	Internal Verifier:	Lynne Seymour,
Assignment Title:	Practical Process and Presentation	Word count (or equivalent):	Practical Production Work and 10 Minute Reflective Presentation
Submission deadline:	20/03/23	Return date of provisional marks & written feedback:	20/04/23
Submission method:	All written assessments, where practical and possible, must be submitted via Turnitin unless otherwise instructed by the Lecturer. (Please DO NOT put this assessment specification into Turnitin or it will match many similarities with other students' submissions.) Alternative submission method (if applicable): Late submission of the assessment will result in a late penalty mark. Penalties for late submission: Up to one week late, maximum mark of 40%. Over one week late, 0%. Only the Extenuating Circumstances Panel may approve a change to submission dates.
Academic honesty / referencing:	Academic honesty is required. In the main body of your submission you must give credit to authors on whose research and ideas your work is based. Append to your submission a reference list that indicates the books, articles, etc. that you have used, cited or quoted in order to complete this assessment.

Module Learning Outcomes (from module syllabus)

Upon the successful completion of this module, the student should be able to:

- Deploy a high degree of skill and conceptual understanding in the practical realisation of their allotted project role.
- Demonstrate a high degree of initiative and personal responsibility to work independently, with a director and in collaboration with their peers.
- Critically evaluate and reflect on the creative process and their contribution to it.

TASK DESCRIPTION

Throughout this module you will be expected to fully engage in the rehearsal process for a performance piece under the guidance of your director. You will rehearse, collaborate and create work as guided by your director, assistant director and production manager. This work will include group rehearsals and tasks as well as independent work in order to produce a performance piece.

Task 1: Rehearsal, Production & Performance

1: Engaging and participating in a practical rehearsal process you will collaborate with your cohort to create a performance piece for script/s as directed by your director, assistant director and/or production manager. You will create artefacts that will represent you as professional in the creative industries.

You will work together as a production company as well as independently throughout the module to creatively shape and develop the project brief from initial ideas and thoughts through to a public performance. You will be expected to work in a sustained and developmental manner throughout the project.

2: Depending on your assigned role you will contribute to the practical presentation of the project brief.

For example:

Acting students

- Research, rehearse and contribute work for practical performance in an assigned role. You will be expected to work independently as well as in collaboration with your cohort and the production team.

Theatre Design and Production and Set Design students

- Work within your production company, in your assigned role, to produce the visual elements for your given script to produce a public performance. You will need to work as a group and independently, along with your director and creative team, to accomplish all tasks necessary.

Task 2: Presentation

At the end of the module, you will be given an opportunity to demonstrate your contextual understanding and evaluation of your process through a 10 minute presentation with the module tutor and moderator.

The presentation will enable students to explore, consider and reflect on the ideas, methods and approaches encountered in their work during the rehearsal and performance process.

You will prepare an answer for each of the following 6 questions. Within a 10 minute timeframe, you will be allowed to present answers to 3 of the questions (1 chosen by you; 2 by your tutor)

1. What were your biggest challenges during the rehearsal period?
2. What were your biggest challenges during the performances?
3. How did the production benefit from your inclusion?
4. What was unique about your overall contribution?
5. What changes or strategies would you instigate prior to your next main house engagement?
6. What particular aspect of the genre and style challenged your theatre practice?

ASSESSMENT

Your Assessment will be a continuous process and will consider your ability to work in a sustained, appropriate and developmental manner throughout rehearsals as well as your contribution/s to the final performances. You will be expected to demonstrate your skills from previous levels as well as your ability to build and develop on this knowledge. Your ability to demonstrate a high degree of critical reflection on your process in your Presentation will also form part of your assessment.

The performances and rehearsal process will be in person. Your Presentation will either be in person or online – depending on the student's choice.

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

NOTE: The guidance offered below is linked to the five generic assessment criteria overleaf.

1. Engagement with Literature Skills 10%

Your work must be informed and supported by scholarly material that is relevant to and focused on the task(s) set; you should make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources, where appropriate (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline). You should provide evidence that you have accessed a wide range of sources, which may be academic, governmental and industrial; these sources may include academic journal articles, textbooks, current news articles, organisational documents, and websites. You should consider the credibility of your sources; academic journals are normally highly credible sources while websites require careful consideration/selection and should be used sparingly. Any sources you use should be current and up-to-date, mostly published within the last five years or so, though seminal/important works in the field may be older. You must provide evidence of your research/own reading throughout your work, using a suitable referencing system, including in-text citations in the main body of your work and a reference list at the end of your work.

Guidance specific to this assessment:

1: Using research and engagement in your given tasks, deploy a high degree of conceptual understanding in the development of a theatrical production. This should be evidenced in your practical contributions during the rehearsal and performance process.

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills 10%

At level 6, you should be able to demonstrate coherent and detailed knowledge and a systematic understanding of the subject area, at least some of which is informed by the latest research and/or advanced scholarship within the discipline. You should be aware of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge. Your work must demonstrate the growing extent of your knowledge and systematic understanding of concepts and underlying principles associated with the subject area. Knowledge relates to the facts, information and skills you have acquired through your learning. You demonstrate your understanding by interpreting the meaning of the facts and information (knowledge). This means that you need to select and include in your work the concepts, techniques, models, theories, etc. appropriate to the task(s) set. You should be able to explain the theories, concepts, etc. meaningfully to show your understanding. Your mark/grade will also depend upon the extent to which you demonstrate your knowledge and understanding; ideally each should be complete and detailed, with comprehensive coverage.

Guidance specific to this assessment:

1: Deploy a high degree of conceptual understanding in the development of a theatrical production. This development of skills should be evident in your practical contribution to the process and production.

2: Utilise a high degree of skill in the practical development and realisation of their allocated production role(s).

3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills 20%

You should be able to: critically evaluate evidence, arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data some of which are at the forefront of a discipline (and that may be incomplete) to devise and sustain arguments, to make judgements and/or solve problems; describe and comment upon particular aspects of current research, or equivalent advanced scholarship, in the discipline. Your work must contain evidence of logical, analytical thinking, evaluation and synthesis. For example, to examine and break information down into parts, make inferences, compile, compare and contrast information. This means not just describing what! But also justifying: Why? How? When? Who? Where? At what cost? At all times, you must provide justification for your arguments and judgements. Evidence that you have reflected upon the ideas of others within the subject area is crucial to you providing a reasoned and informed debate within your work.

Furthermore, you should provide evidence that you are able to make sound judgements and convincing arguments using data and concepts. Sound, valid conclusions are necessary and must be derived from the content of your work. Where relevant, alternative solutions and recommendations may be proposed.

Guidance specific to this assessment:

- 1: Deploy a high degree of conceptual understanding in the development of a theatrical production.
- 2: Utilise a high degree of skill in the practical development and realisation of their allocated production role(s).
- 3: Evaluate the creative process and their contribution to it.

4. Practical Skills 40%

At level 6, you should be able to apply the methods and techniques that you have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply your knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects. You will deploy accurately established techniques of analysis and enquiry relevant to the discipline, and apply them in complex and unpredictable contexts, to devise and sustain arguments and/or to solve problems. You should be able to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution - or identify a range of solutions. You should be able to demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations and/or a particular context. How do they work in practice? You will deploy models, methods, techniques, and/or theories, in that context or circumstances, to assess current situations, perhaps to formulate plans or solutions to solve problems, or to create artefacts, some of which may be innovative and creative. This is likely to involve, for instance, the use of real world artefacts, examples and cases, the application of a model within an organisation and/or benchmarking one theory or organisation against others based on stated criteria. You should show awareness of the limitations of concepts and theories when applied in particular contexts.

Guidance specific to this assessment:

- 1: Utilise a high degree of skill in the practical development and realisation of their allocated production role(s).
- 2: Utilise a high degree of ability to work independently, with a director, and in collaboration with their peers.
- 3: Work in a sustained and appropriate manner throughout the module.

5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice 20%

Your work must provide evidence of the qualities and transferable skills necessary for graduate-level employment requiring the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility and decision-making in complex and unpredictable circumstances. This includes demonstrating: the learning ability for professional development to advance existing skills and acquire new competences of a professional nature that will enable you to assume significant responsibility within organisations; that you can initiate and complete tasks and procedures, whether individually and/or collaboratively; that you can use appropriate media to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences; fluency of expression; clarity and effectiveness in presentation and organisation. Work should be coherent and well-structured in presentation and organisation.

Guidance specific to this assessment:

- 1: Utilise a high degree of skill in the practical development and realisation of their allocated production role(s).
- 2: Effectively balance your workload and be fully prepared for rehearsals, meetings and performances.
- 3: Work collaboratively and respectfully with others demonstrating an understanding of professional rehearsal etiquette.

STUDENT FEEDBACK FORM

This section details the extent to which the assessment criteria are demonstrated by you, which in turn determines your mark. The marks available for each category of skill are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

GENERIC ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Level 6

In accordance with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications, at the end of Level 6 students should have coherent and detailed knowledge and a systematic understanding of their subject area, at least some of which is informed by the latest research and/or advanced scholarship within the discipline. They will be able to accurately deploy established techniques of analysis and enquiry within a discipline, using their conceptual understanding to devise and sustain arguments and/or to solve problems. They should be aware of the uncertainty, ambiguity and limits of knowledge. They should be able to critically evaluate evidence, arguments, assumptions, abstract concepts and data (that may be incomplete), to make judgements, and to frame appropriate questions to achieve a solution - or identify a range of solutions. They will apply the methods and techniques that they have learned to review, consolidate, extend and apply their knowledge and understanding, and to initiate and carry out projects. They will have the ability to manage their own learning, and to make use of scholarly reviews and primary sources (for example, refereed research articles and/or original materials appropriate to the discipline). They will demonstrate the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring: the exercise of initiative and personal responsibility; decision-making in complex and unpredictable contexts; the learning ability needed to undertake appropriate further training of a professional or equivalent nature.
