

My experience at UWTSD (University of Wales Trinity Saint David London)

How and Why, I joined the institution

My name is Sisi I am 24 years old and am going to talk about my experience at the current university I study. Since my first day at this institution, I have learn a lot of new and different things about methods of writing and useful tips about workplace and business. This whole thing is new to me and to be honest I have never thought I would make this step but here I am proud of myself for making this decision. One day at class we had to talk about couple of things that each of us is proud and mine were that I made the decision to move in London, and to move forward with my career as make-up artist thought completing one year course specialised in makeup artistry and successfully receiving my qualification, and also having the chance to work with beauty brands such as MAC cosmetics, Lancôme, Givenchy and etc. The last important thing is I am extremely proud that I choose to continue with my studies so one day I can have the life and career I dreamed about and that is having my own business. I genuinely believe that success comes with a lot of hard work so in order to be successful you need to have action plan on how everything should happened, in my head I have plan on how possibly things will go and what I need to do so one day I can be successful. My passion has always been make up for me this is art and a way to express yourself using this form of art so one day I would like to open my own studio for makeup artistry. One day hopefully I am planning to grow my business with hairdressing, nails, and beauty treatments, other than idea that is definitely not enough to open business you need to have the knowledge how managing an enterprise now days works and of course the specific qualifications and skills needed for this role as CEO. One of the modules this year at university is exactly related to this specific topic on how to manage enterprise in 21st century for me this is pretty exciting and interesting to learn even though I have experience in retail business and I have very minimal knowledge on how things work I am really excited to actually learn about it and to use it as a method in my career. Of course, possibilities are endless after having degrees but the most important thing is to know how worth it is to have even one. In one of the Benjamin Franklin books called The Way to Wealth, Money, and Success he says: 'An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest'. I think is not only the interest you get but also the education you receive which afterwards are extremely helpful and useful in life and at the workplace and very often we use them in practice. Everyone has motivation in life when you doing something there is always a reason that motives you to continue is either a personal goal or just the idea of being successful in different perspectives in life my motivation is achieving my goals and being at the place, I want to be of course my family is the other reason to continue what I do. Also, for a long time I been thinking to start a YouTube career just seen all these people and how quickly they become successful made me start considering if can do that? My passion and love towards makeup began by watching YouTube videos and I started to picturing myself being one of those people online that makes videos and teaching others how to do makeup, tips, and tricks about beauty and etc. One of my mine inspiration is Nikkie Tutorials for me she is the definition of strong and successful person she only started her career incredibly young and now she is one the most popular Beauty Gurus on the platform with over 13 million subscribers on you tube and with 15million on Instagram the list goes long she also done a lot collaborations with famous artists, singers like one of the being Adele. This for me is a pure example of extremely hard work and no days off and focusing on goals of course luck might have done some work to but to be able to handle all of this it really takes courage. We live in an exceedingly small world so there is a lot of possibilities there is no guarantee if I start with my youtube career it will be currently success but for me what is going to be more important is the fact that I have tried at least so I would not be disappointed at all whatever the income of the whole things is I will take it as a lesson and move on with my career. My personal accomplishment would be to succeed in order of achieving my goals and be CEO of a company one day itself that would be a huge. By all means all of this is just a dream of mine and to be at that position it takes a lot of time and very well preprepared plan and vision for all. Long time ago I read a book about positive thinking and it is called the power of mind by John Kehoe in this book he tells real stories about people achieve their goals in life only by positive thinking one of this stories is about a girl who is really smart and intelligent and wants to study at one of the most prestige universities Harvard but she is struggling to find money for the tax and she tries everything but with no success all of the sudden she stops trying and starts to think how she already studies at the university one day she finds envelope in her letter box with the exact money for the tax from anonymous man and she couldn't believe what happened to her and how only with the power of positive thinking she had what she wanted. This is just one of the amazing stories in the book and amazing example of how our mind can be so powerful and could help us to do anything we dreamed of. Science says that only 8% of people achieve their goals in life and that is 8% of 81 million people in the world which shows that there is room for change. This is also one of the things Mahatma Gandhi (1888-1979) believes and says –"Be the change that you wish to see in the world" Therefore if you want to see change and progress the only person who can help you is you and no one else, in time I realise that if I want to change something if I want to be successful one day and do what I love I need to fight for it and make the impossible word possible. Sometimes not everything what we want in life we get but the most important thing is on the end of the day is to try if you try you don't lose anything yes you may lose a little hope but if you keep pushing and don't give up you might find yourself already there on the final destination. I know this for fact because I was in this position ones before but I find my way back and I keep going till I reach my final destination and be at place where am happy with my choices my life and career so I can be part of this 8% people. Of course, like everything in life there is fear of failing but if you don't try you never know if you going to fail if you don't ask the answer will be always no, so even if you fail the most important thing is that you tried.

In conclusion to all things said is never give up always trying even if you fail try again and start to believe in yourself so you can make change. To my future self I would like to say thank you for not giving up on your dreams and for believing in yourself that you can do anything you wish and so much more and also don't worry if something goes wrong or not towards the plan you have made at least you will be proud to say you tried and for that I am proud of you. Of course, future is far away in time and at the moment I am focused on what is happening now and my plan to graduate university and afterwards, for this year I told myself I need to be more active and take action in certain things for example my work and what I do and work on promoting it more on my social media accounts so it will help me to find more new clients and attracted more irregular ones. This is one of the things that I believe I will learn at this university is how to manage my own business all tips and useful information about it and in an upcoming future this will help me to develop and build my very own one I dream about. I believe in the skills and the experience I have that will also help me to progress in my future career, university is just a step that will help me to not only improve my knowledge skills and etc but also to help me achieve my goals and help me in my future career. Education has always been important for me which is why I decided to study at this university so not only I can get my degrees but to receive all of that knowledge that I need for opening and developing my business I have planned to open one day. I know for fact that I have a lots of things to work on so I can become that successful person that 8% of people who achieved their dreams and goals in life so a lot of hard work no days off and positive thinking whatever it takes I will do it for sure. This is my view on things and how they should go based on my plan I have what will happened only the upcoming future will show ones again I am proud of myself and the place where am at so I would not change a single thing about it.
