TASK DESCRIPTION

Essay - 2000 words (+/- 10%)

Discuss how the evolution of Human Resources Management (HRM) facilitates the strategic development of an international hotel brand through workforce planning, recruitment and selection.

Background

Research and discuss how the changing roles of HRM support the strategic development of an international brand through planning, recruitment and selection process.

Consider:

- Select ONE international hotel brand
- Discuss about the evolution of HRM
- Discuss about the strategic role of HR functions

- Strategic HR planning process
 - Forecasting labour demand and supply
 - Goal setting and strategic planning
 - Program implementation and evaluation

- Recruitment stages and selection process
 - Provide examples of how your selected hotel brand facilitates development of business unit through HR planning, recruitment and selection process.

You should structure your work as an ESSAY with an opening introduction (around 10% of your word count), where you will explain what the essay will be looking at, whilst also defining key terms appropriate for your essay. This will be followed by your main body (80% of your word count), where you will review the strategic role of HRM and discuss how it impacts strategic planning and recruitment process. This section will contain several paragraphs and should flow nicely from one section to the next (the golden thread). Conclude your essay with a closing paragraph (10% of your word count). The conclusion contains no new material. Summarise your findings, highlighting the impacts of strategic HRM functions on business growth within the hotel industry. As this is an essay, it must be structured accordingly with no section headings or contents page, each paragraph should flow nicely from one section to the next.

You must present your essay with a front page, this to include:

The title of the essay – Discuss how the evolution of HRM facilitates the strategic development of an international hotel brand through workforce planning, recruitment and selection.

- The module title and module code
- Your lecturer's name
- Your name in full
- Your student ID

Microsoft Word settings:

Please use:

- Arial Font 12
- 1.5 line spacing
- Justify Text

Reference List (Not included in word count)

You must use credible sources for your research including those from the reading list. This also includes online sources, textbooks, media and industry journals to support your essay. This is a 2,000 word paper and so you need to include 20 sources as a minimum. The references quoted should be published within these five years These must also be inserted as in text citations, to support your writing.

You will be assessed on your ability to synthesise knowledge, to develop an understanding of the subject you have chosen, and how you have been able to present this idea in words within this supporting paper.

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

NOTE: The guidance offered below is linked to the five generic assessment criteria overleaf.

1. Engagement with Literature Skills

Your work must be informed and supported by scholarly material that is relevant to and focused on the task(s) set. You should provide evidence that you have accessed an appropriate range of sources, which may be academic, governmental and industrial; these sources may include academic journal articles, textbooks, current news articles, organisational documents, and websites. You should consider the credibility of your sources; academic journals are normally highly credible sources while websites require careful consideration/selection and should be used sparingly. Any sources you use should be current and up-to-date, mostly published within the last five years or so, though seminal/important works in the field may be older. You must provide evidence of your research/own reading throughout your work, using a suitable referencing system, including in-text citations in the main body of your work and a reference list at the end of your work.

Specific to this assignment: The work should contain at least 20 academic references in support of your work from a variety of valid and reliable sources. The references quoted should be published within these five years. A reference list should be provided using UWTSD's Harvard referencing conventions.

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills

At level 5, you should be able to demonstrate: sound knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established concepts and principles of the subject area and the way in which those principles have developed; knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the discipline. Knowledge relates to the facts, information and skills you have acquired through your learning. You demonstrate your understanding by interpreting the meaning of the facts and information (knowledge). This means that you need to select and include in your work the concepts, techniques, models, theories, etc. appropriate to the task(s) set. You should be able to explain the theories, concepts, etc. meaningfully to show your understanding. Your mark/grade will also depend upon the extent to which you demonstrate your knowledge and understanding.

Specific to this assignment: You should demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the theories/models associated with personnel resourcing, along with a detailed understanding of the strategic HR function, planning and recruitment process.

3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills

You should be able to critically analyse information, and propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis, including the critical evaluation of the appropriateness of different approaches to solving problems. Your work must contain evidence of logical, analytical thinking, evaluation and synthesis. For example, to examine and break information down into parts, make inferences, compile, compare and contrast information. This means not just describing what! But also justifying: Why? How? When? Who? Where? At what cost? At all times, you must provide justification/evidence for your arguments and judgements. Evidence that you have reflected upon the ideas of others within the subject area is crucial to you providing a reasoned and informed debate within your work. Furthermore, you should provide evidence that you are able to make sound judgements and convincing arguments using data and concepts, with an understanding of the limits of knowledge, and how this influences analyses and interpretations. Sound, valid conclusions are necessary and must be derived from the content of your work. Where relevant, alternative solutions and recommendations may be proposed.

Specific to this assignment: You should critically evaluate your sources, synthesis of information from your research and academic theories/ models and draw appropriate conclusions and recommendations. Review strategic role of HR function and analyse their performance on planning, recruitment and selection.

4. Practical Skills

At level 5, you should be able to use/deploy a range of established techniques within the discipline, and apply underlying concepts and principles outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context. You should be able to demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations and/or a particular context. How do they work in practice? You will deploy models, methods, techniques, and/or theories, in that context, to assess current situations, perhaps to formulate plans or solutions to solve problems, or to create artefacts, some of which may be creative. This is likely to involve, for instance, the use of real world artefacts, examples and cases, the application of a model within an organisation and/or benchmarking one theory or organisation against others based on stated criteria. You should show awareness of the limitations of concepts and theories when applied in particular contexts.

Specific to this assignment: The essay should demonstrate understanding of how the strategic HR functions supports an international hotel brand unit through planning, recruitment and selection process including specific examples from the selected international hotel brand.

5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice

Your work must provide evidence of the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making. This includes demonstrating: professional development to advance existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable you to assume significant responsibility within organisations; that you can initiate and complete tasks and procedures, whether individually and/or collaboratively; that you can use appropriate media to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences; fluency of expression; clarity and effectiveness in presentation and organisation. Work should be coherent and well-structured in presentation and organisation.

Specific to this assignment: The essay should be structured in accordance with an academic essay layout (follow guidelines). The content should be of a professional standard with correct spelling, grammar and a logical flow to your discussion. The work needs to be supported with citations which should be referenced using the Harvard method. Arial font 12 should be used, with 1.5 line spacing and justified text.

Essential Resources:

- Resources provided in module handbook, lecture notes, tutorial material and on Moodle / Teams.

ASSIGNMENT 1 - STUDENT FEEDBACK FORM

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

GENERIC ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

Level 5

In accordance with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications, at the end of Level 5 students will be expected to have developed sound knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established concepts and principles in their field of study, and of the way in which those principles have developed. They will have learned to apply those concepts and principles more widely outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context. They will have knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the subject area, and ability to evaluate critically different approaches to problem solving. They will possess an understanding of the limits of their knowledge, and how this influences their analyses and interpretations. They will be able to use a range of established techniques to initiate and undertake critical analysis of information, and to propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis. They will be able to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences, and deploy key techniques of the discipline effectively. They will be able to undertake further training, develop existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable them to assume significant responsibility within organisations. They will have the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making.

TASK DESCRIPTION

Research Project Proposal – 2000 words (+/-10%)

Analyse the impacts of socio-economic force on employees' performance management and monitoring in different work modes: Hospitality HR's perspective.

Background

This project proposal is for the General Manager of the hotel highlighting the impacts of socio-economic force on employees' performance management in different work modes. The General Manager has requested you, the HR Manager to conduct a research proposal of 2000 words based on a hotel brand. Please provide a brief background of the hotel chain in your report.

Consider:

- Select a hotel brand
- Describe socio-economic factors, a part of PESTLE Analysis
- Describe the industry trend including but not limited to retention rates, turnover rate
- Discuss emergence of different work modes in hospitality industry over these five years
- Industry examples – For example, what have The Marriott/IHG/Radison have done to manage employees' performance in different work modes.

You should structure your work as a report, inclusive of a cover page, contents page and subheadings.

Introduction and Background (20% - 400 words)

- Briefly discuss the hotel on which the proposal is to be based. Within your discussion on the feasibility of implementing different work modes in hospitality context, the proposal will examine along with the issue of employee performance management. This very much sets out the subject that you are proposing, a short background of the hotel of your choice, identifying the current issues the proposal will examine based around the impacts of socio-economic factor. Consider these factors might impact employee monitoring and management in different work modes examples include hybrid work mode, office work arrangement, flexi work mode.

Discussion/Literature (60% - 1200 words)

- In this section, you should summarise work on this topic that other researchers have conducted including their finding and provide any background on the topic that your readers should have before you present your own work.
- Provide examples on how the selected international hotel brand monitors employees management in different work modes
- What are potential solutions?

Evaluation and Conclusion (20% - 400 words)

Summarise your main work and findings as well as the implications of your work, including solutions as recommendations to the business.

Proposal Presentation

You must present your research project proposal as a report with a front page, this to include:

Project Proposal Title - Analyse the impacts of socio-economic force on employees' performance management and monitoring in different work modes: Hospitality HR's perspective

- The module title and module code
- Your lecturer's name
- Your name in full
- Your student ID

Microsoft Word settings:

Please use:

- Arial Font 12
- 1.5 line spacing
- Justify Text

You must include in-text citations, along with a Reference List that conforms to UWTSD's Harvard Referencing Guide (copy available on Moodle).

GUIDANCE FOR STUDENTS IN THE COMPLETION OF TASKS

1. Engagement with Literature Skills

Your work must be informed and supported by scholarly material that is relevant to and focused on the task(s) set. You should provide evidence that you have accessed an appropriate range of sources, which may be academic, governmental and industrial; these sources may include academic journal articles, textbooks, current news articles, organisational documents, and websites. You should consider the credibility of your sources; academic journals are normally highly credible sources while websites require careful consideration/selection and should be used sparingly. Any sources you use should be current and up-to-date, mostly published within the last five years or so, though seminal/important works in the field may be older. You must provide evidence of your research/own reading throughout your work, using a suitable referencing system, including in-text citations in the main body of your work and a reference list at the end of your work.

Specific to this assignment: The work should contain at least 20 academic references in support of your work from a variety of valid and reliable sources. The references quoted should be published within these five years. A reference list should be provided using UWTSD's Harvard referencing conventions.

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills

At level 5, you should be able to demonstrate: sound knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established concepts and principles of the subject area and the way in which those principles have developed; knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the discipline. Knowledge relates to the facts, information and skills you have acquired through your learning. You demonstrate your understanding by interpreting the meaning of the facts and information (knowledge). This means that you need to select and include in your work the concepts, techniques, models, theories, etc. appropriate to the task(s) set. You should be able to explain the theories, concepts, etc. meaningfully to show your understanding. Your mark/grade will also depend upon the extent to which you demonstrate your knowledge and understanding.

Specific to this assignment: You should demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the theories/models associated with different work modes as well as methods used to levels of monitoring and management within a workforce. You should demonstrate a sound understanding of the impact of current challenges the industry is facing with regards to retention.

3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills

You should be able to critically analyse information, and propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis, including the critical evaluation of the appropriateness of different approaches to solving problems. Your work must contain evidence of logical, analytical thinking, evaluation and synthesis. For example, to examine and break information down into parts, make inferences, compile, compare and contrast information. This means not just describing what! But also justifying: Why? How? When? Who? Where? At what cost? At all times, you must provide justification/evidence for your arguments and judgements. Evidence that you have reflected upon the ideas of others within the subject area is crucial to you providing a reasoned and informed debate within your work. Furthermore, you should provide evidence that you are able to make sound judgements and convincing arguments using data and concepts, with an understanding of the limits of knowledge, and how this influences analyses and interpretations. Sound, valid conclusions are necessary and must be derived from the content of your work. Where relevant, alternative solutions and recommendations may be proposed.

Specific to this assignment: You should critically evaluate your sources, synthesis of information from your research and academic theories/ models and draw appropriate conclusions and recommendations. Critically analyse how different work mode impacts employees monitoring and management in your selected hotel brand.

4. Practical Skills

At level 5, you should be able to use/deploy a range of established techniques within the discipline, and apply underlying concepts and principles outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context. You should be able to demonstrate how the subject-related concepts and ideas relate to real world situations and/or a particular context. How do they work in practice? You will deploy models, methods, techniques, and/or theories, in that context, to assess current situations, perhaps to formulate plans or solutions to solve problems, or to create artefacts, some of which may be creative. This is likely to involve, for instance, the use of real world artefacts, examples and cases, the application of a model within an organisation and/or benchmarking one theory or organisation against others based on stated criteria. You should show awareness of the limitations of concepts and theories when applied in particular contexts.

Specific to this assignment: The report should include the impact of socio-economic factors on the industry and critical analysis of the affects of this, including, highlighting the impact on employee management and monitoring in different work modes and why this is beneficial to your selected hotel brand.

5. Transferable Skills for Life and Professional Practice

Your work must provide evidence of the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making. This includes demonstrating: professional development to advance existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable you to assume significant responsibility within organisations; that you can initiate and complete tasks and procedures, whether individually and/or collaboratively; that you can use appropriate media to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences; fluency of expression; clarity and effectiveness in presentation and organisation. Work should be coherent and well-structured in presentation and organisation.

Specific to this assignment: The report should be presented using a project proposal as demonstrated within the assignment guidance notes. The content should be of a professional standard with correct spelling, grammar, justified text and a logical flow to your discussion. The work needs to be supported with citations which should be referenced using the Harvard method, including a variety of relevant and up to date sources.

ASSIGNMENT 2 STUDENT FEEDBACK FORM

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

Level 5

In accordance with the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications, at the end of Level 5 students will be expected to have developed sound knowledge and critical understanding of the well-established concepts and principles in their field of study, and of the way in which those principles have developed. They will have learned to apply those concepts and principles more widely outside the context in which they were first studied, including, where appropriate, the application of those principles in an employment context. They will have knowledge of the main methods of enquiry in the subject area, and ability to evaluate critically different approaches to problem solving. They will possess an understanding of the limits of their knowledge, and how this influences their analyses and interpretations. They will be able to use a range of established techniques to initiate and undertake critical analysis of information, and to propose solutions to problems arising from that analysis. They will be able to effectively communicate information, arguments and analysis in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences, and deploy key techniques of the discipline effectively. They will be able to undertake further training, develop existing skills and acquire new competences that will enable them to assume significant responsibility within organisations. They will have the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision-making.
