

MARKING CRITERIA and STUDENT FEEDBACK

This section details the assessment criteria. The extent to which these are demonstrated by you determines your mark. The marks available for each criterion are shown. Lecturers will use the space provided to comment on the achievement of the task(s), including those areas in which you have performed well and areas that would benefit from development/improvement.

Common Assessment Criteria Applied	Marks Available	Marks Awarded
General Comments
You need to be mindful of the rubric and its requirements and be certain of what needs to be done and seek advice to be clear of a path on developing the site. You have a well presented website, but is only somewhat problematic when you look at your codebase (jQuery needs enhancing). Finally, you should have examined ways of using a single codebase for your popups	100	58

2. Knowledge and Understanding Skills
Generally, good demonstration of JS skills, but in need of relevant commenting and why the need for a copy/paste of code - if you made an array of images code within charmodel.js could have been simplified. Also validation of data - not enough demonstration of skills, there are "other" types of validation	15	10
3. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills
Discussion here relates to an approach to developing your solution from a JS point of view, you have cited many elements, but how did you go about developing the client side element of this site.	15	10
4. Practical Application Skills
Although you have demonstrated your skills with JS, you need to be mindful on what you are developing and how to make this more "efficient" - popups are fine, duplication of code not, form validation needs a range of validation techniques where you have only provided a few. Dark mode is fine, but why the duplication of pages - could this be done through a single CSS set of functions. Also, a little more jQuery on this site would have been useful	70	38
