1. Introduction

It's a report about Nireka's Dream Dance Studio. The report contains a 'Requirements Section' which will give a short introduction about the website, what is the purpose of the website and how to reach the correct audience who will be suitable. The next section is going to be 'Implementation'. It will show the whole webpage as screenshots pictures. Without visiting the webpage, it will be easy to look how the webpage is going to look like. In this section there is a Validation point too. The HTML and CSS code of the completed website needs to be validated and provide the validation results. If there was any error during the coding, the errors will be point outed and how it was corrected. The errors which are unable to correct will stay there as incorrected. The third section is going to be the 'Evaluation'. This section is here to discuss the accessibility of the website with respect to the four principles that provide the foundation for Web accessibility as applicable to the website. An evaluation of the completed website taking into consideration its design (look and feel), usability (functionality) and content (information), including recommendations for future improvements. Also an evaluation of the website's on-page Search Engine Optimisation (SEO). The final section is about the 'References'. Any information sources like journals, books, articles, online sources, etc. that was used to develop the webpage needs to be listed here in this section.

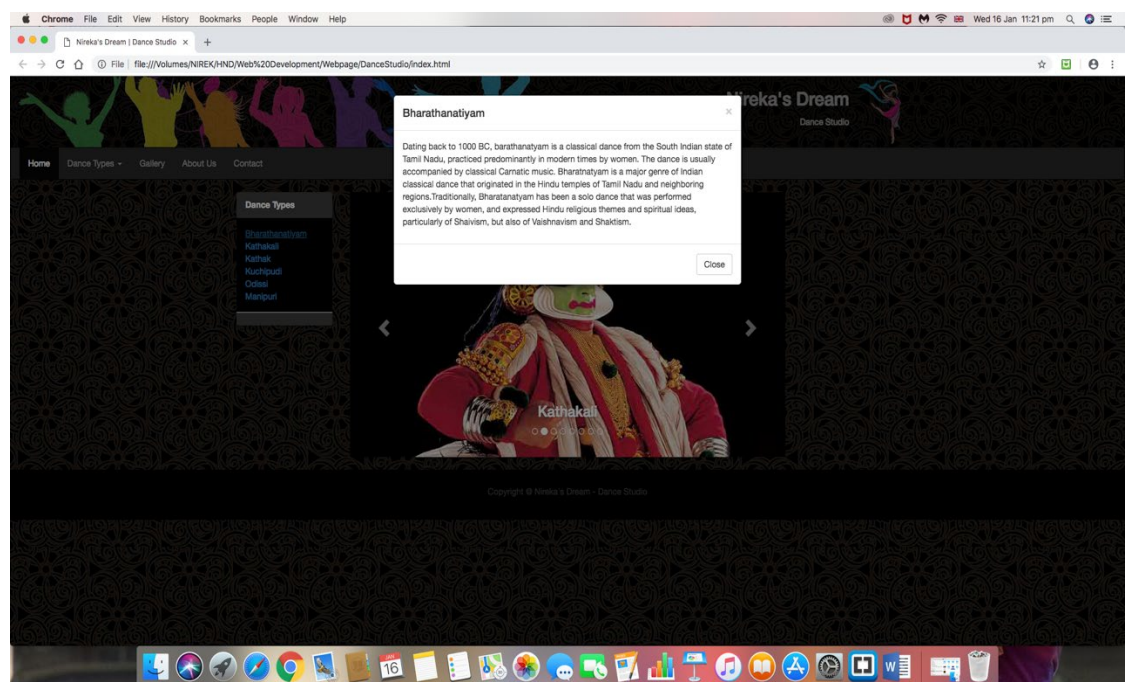

2. Requirements

The website “Nireka’s Dream Dance Studio” is about Mrs. Reka Ragupathy who loves to dance and teaching dances to any age group from her age 15. She starts her career as a choreographer in Germany in their Tamilschool where she also teaches her mother language Tamil to their own community people from Sri Lanka. Her father was a very strict and ‘backhome mindset’ person, who never allow her to dance in stage because it is bad if girls are dancing. At the age of 18-19, she discovered her own talent and how passionate she is about dancing and felt so guilty that she missed all the opportunities to dance in stages and in dance competitions. Also she found out that there was no one there to support her talent and fulfil her dreams. So she decided to do it by herself. After she moved to UK, she joined her community school in Port-Talbot where she teaches her mother language Tamil with other members. There was the opportunity to teach dance for some cultural programmes etc. Now she has her own group of girls who wants to dance by Nireka’s Choreography. Even if she is teaching dance, her dream is to dance in a “Dance Group” with other dancers. Unfortunately there is no Tamil dance groups in Wales compare to England. So she starts her own dance group in Wales. Till now she never dance in a stage but the opportunity will come very soon. The website was created by her to share the videos and photos with other ‘dance-passion’ audience and it is also a good source to keep all files in one place so it can be accessed from all over the places. The main reason to develop this website was to give other “dance-passion” people who has talents inside but never got the opportunity to show it outside. ‘Nireka’s Dream Dance Studio’ proudly hoping that they will give motivation to other people to achieve something in their life rather than sitting and worrying all the years that they have done nothing.

3. Implementation

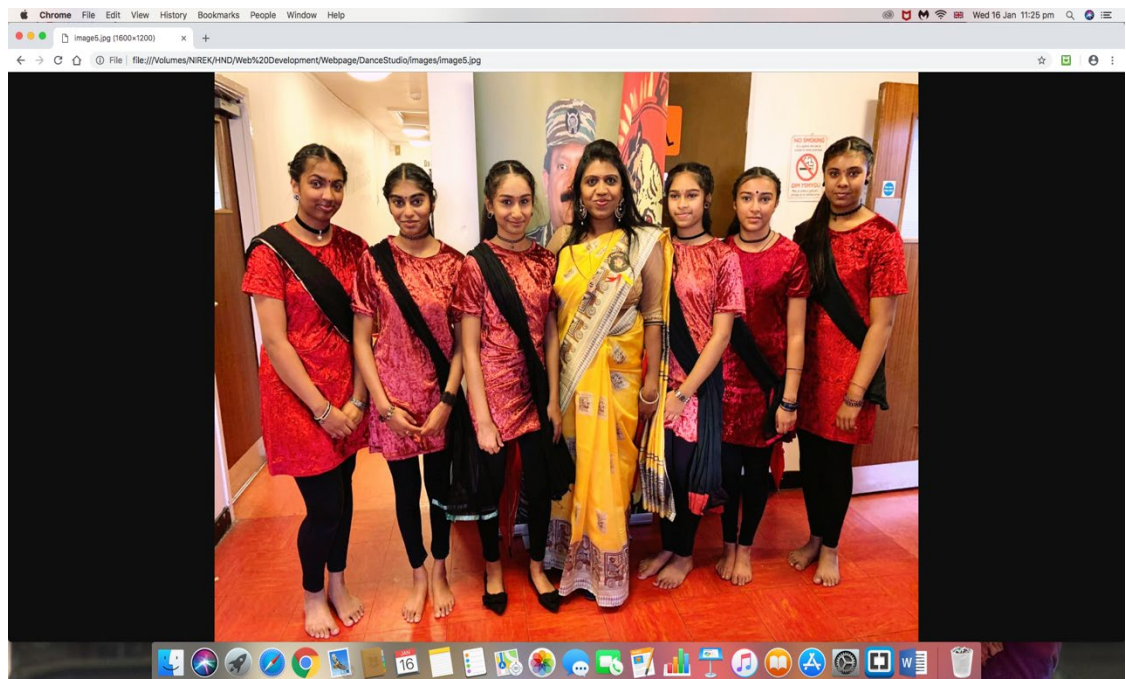

This is the Home page of the website. It have some sliding pictures with some dance types. Also there is a bar with dance types names. To know the details of the dance types, press the name and a window will open with the explanation. For each dance type there is a matching picture so it will be easy to imagine how the dance will look like.

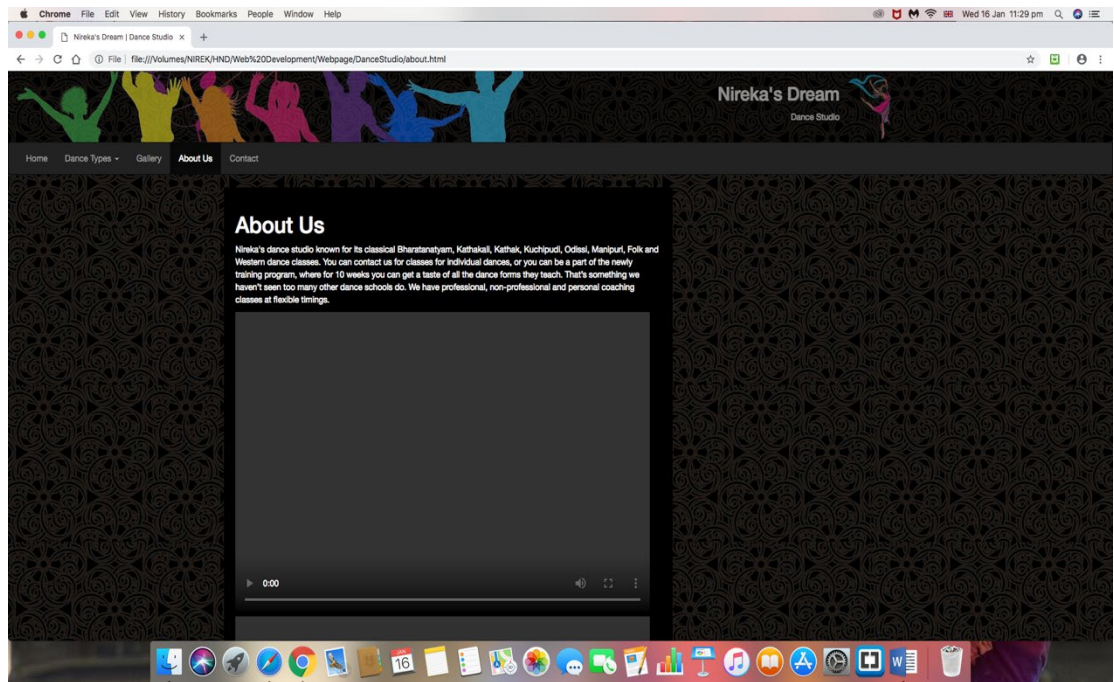

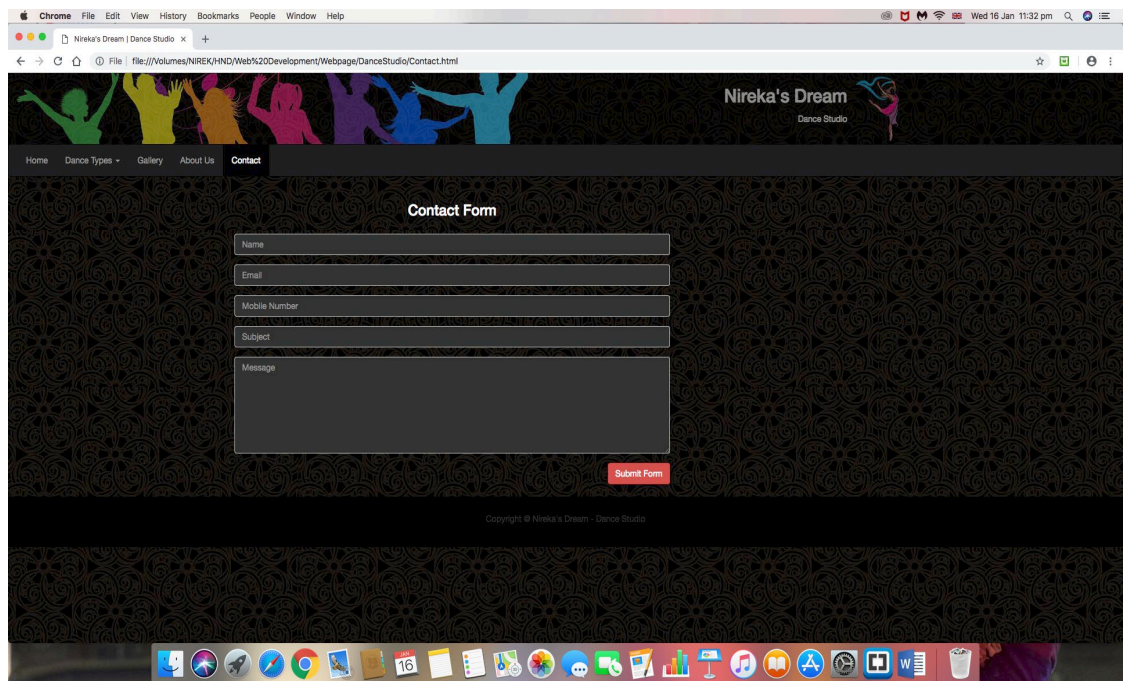

The next section is Gallery. These are the pictures of Nireka's Dream Dance Studio students. They have performed in many stages and in many events. They all are different age group children. If you click the image, it will become larger.

This is an image with the choreographer Nireka and her students. It was taken in November 2018 at a Soldier Remember Day.

The next page is About Us. It has some brief introduction about the dance group and the dance class lessons. It also contains 3 dance videos of the students. Unfortunately it was working on HP laptop but on Mac the video is not playing.

The last page is Contact Form. If anyone is interested to join our Dance Studio, they can fill in their name, Email, Phone number and a message about their enquiry. They will get an answer as quick as possible.
