Comments

Remember to give full information about texts in your reference list, not just the author, title and year. Citation numbers should go immediately after the author's name, not at the end of the sentence. Nice point about Google's colours and using symbolic colours.

Comments

Needs better contrast between the colours - they're too dark. Good use of text and labelling

Q1: Putting water in makes the individual boards too small to read properly. You could use a multi bar histogram instead

Q2: Pie charts are not agreed thing to use - the slices are too close to the same sizes. A stacked bar chart would be better

Q3: similar problem to Q2 with pie charts. Good point showing relative sizes. Try showing the overall data, not the data for each month.

Q4: } Good.
